A WRECK BABY

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., March 29.—Physicians reported Mrs. Mary Maiston of Indianapolis one of the passengers who escaped unharmed in the Amherst wreck gave birth to a child in one of the day coaches immediately after the wreck.

(By United Press.)
Cleveland, O., March 29.—Three crack New York Central trains, one of them the Twentieth Century Limited, crashed together in a thick fog one mile west of Amherst, Ohio today. At least twenty-seven persons were killed outright and 43 persons injured some of them fatally.

A sleepy tower man is to blame for the Amherst wreck, A. M. Ingals decided late today. Ingals said the tower man's wife gave birth to a child Sunday night and that the tower man had been without sleep most of the time since then.

Indiana people among the dead are:

Charles Nelson, 30, Indianapolis.
George Ojonta, Indianapolis.
Raissin Obbah, Indianapolis.
Malceina Bemmol, Indiana Harbor
Among the injured were L. A. Griffin, Elkhart, Ind., bruised and suffering from shock; Adolph Lawrence, Gary, Ind.

A tally made by undertakers and newspaper men at the scene showed that twenty-one bodies, thirteen of them identified, have been taken from the debris.

Railroad officials insisted four hours after the wreck that only fifteen bodies had been removed.

Twenty-three bodies are in the morgue at Amherst, two at Loraine and two at Elyria.

When the Twentieth Century Limited, the fastest train in the world, smashed into the wreckage cast upon its tracks, the debris was thrown hundreds of feet. Engineer Herbert Hess of the second section said this afternoon that his train was going fifty miles an hour when it struck the first section. He said the two block signals which he passed prior to the wreck were "clear." The second section was going about two miles behind the first section.

Twenty coaches and baggage cars were overturned and splintered. All of the coaches were steel. Two of the great engines turned over. The boiler of the second section engine and the water quenched a fire that started in the telescoped day coach of the first section. Two coaches were crumpled into junk. Only three remained on the track. Both sections of No. 86 were bound Chicago to Pittsburgh.

The crumpled day coach of the first section of No. 86 was the death car. Survivors told harrowing

Road Heads Explains How It Happened

(By United Press.)

New York, March 29.—The New York Central offices this afternoon issued a statement with the following explanation of the Amherst wreck:

"Reports indicate that the engineer of the first section of train No. 86 received a caution signal. He proceeded under caution to the home signal and stopped his train. A flagman started back immediately but before he reached the proper distance the second section of No. 86 came along with the engine working steam. It appears that the engineer of the second section No. 86 disregarded signals. The engine of No. 86 ran into the steel coach of the rear of the first section of No. 86 and all the injuries and fatalities were confined to the passengers in this coach with the exception of the porter and mail clerk which were in the mail car immediately ahead.

stories of suffering. Frank Provost, New York salesman, told of hearing cries, groans and screams and of one man praying aloud. Legs and arms of victims were picked up and carried about, he said.

Parts of the bodies of a man and women were found on the pilot of the engine of the second section.

W. C. Braley of Pittsburgh said:

"A more hideous wreck can scarcely be imagined. Up above the engine of the second division mixed with the wreckage were the mangled bodies of dead and injured, for the most part unclothed."

Another survivor told of seeing a man pick up a leg and another man approaching carrying a bundle of arms and legs done up in a sheet and asking what he should do with it.

All of the dead and injured were passengers of the first section of eastbound train No. 86. If the coaches had not been all steel the loss of life would have been much greater, New York Central officials said.

According to stories told by passengers, the first section of No. 86 eastbound, had just slowed up ready to stop when a block signal was thrown against it one mile west of Amherst. The second section of No. 86, bound from Detroit to Pittsburgh dashed into the rear of the first section less than two minutes later.

Brakemen had been sent back with a lantern to warn the second section. Passengers said the fog probably prevented the engineer of the trailer seeing the warning light.

The second section crashed clear through a buffet car and a day coach on the first section, throwing the wreckage on the next track. In less than a minute the Twentieth Century Limited, running sixty miles an hour, hit the wreckage.

The Twentieth Century was derailed, the engine ploughing through three hundred yards of track, but no passengers on the Century were hurt.

Most of the dead and injured were rushed to Memorial hospital at Elyria, five miles from the wreck, at 6:30 a. m.

Jasper D. Case has filed suit against the Rush County Amusement Association to foreclose a mechanics lien, demanding $750.

ARE IMPRESSED BY NEW PROCESS

Good Roads Advocates From Here
See Glutrin Tested With
Seventeen Other Materials

DECLARE IT SHOWS UP WELL

Larger Party Will Leave Thursday Night For Detroit To See Some Concrete Roads.

The county commissioners were resting today getting ready for their trip tomorrow to Detroit. The commissioners and the party that visited in Columbus, Ohio, yesterday returned last night. The party will leave Indianapolis Thursday night at nine o'clock for Detroit and will return some time Saturday. While in Detroit they will inspect several concrete roads. At present there are three petitions for concrete roads pending before the commissioners.

The commissioners were favorably impressed with the roads they saw yesterday in Columbus that had been prepared with the glutrin process. On account of weather conditions they were unable to view any country roads but saw plenty of the glutrin prepared highways in the city where the traffic is the heaviest. One of these streets had been in for seven years and apparently showed no wear. The commissioners are considering a proposition to repair the road east of the city from the end of the brick street past the poor farm with this process.

One exhibition that especially impressed the local good road advocates at Columbus yesterday was a road just outside of the city composed of eighteen road building materials. This, according to a member of the board of commissioners, revealed the worth of glutrin.

For the purpose of comparing the various materials, the authorities had such a road built and asked all of the companies making road materials to build a short section of the road as a sample. A member of the board said that glutrin had stood the test for seven years where other materials had worn out.

It was stated by a member of the party that the section built of concrete had crumbled and was little better than any road at all. The macadam section was a mudhole. One section adjoining the glutrin, the composition of which was not ascertained, had worn down about six inches below the level of the glutrin, one of the commissioners said.

The trip to Columbus did not create very favorable impressions on the members of the board regarding concrete as a permanent road. But they had promised to go to Detroit to view some concrete roads there. The commissioners have heard that concrete has not given satisfaction many places.

There are three petitions for concrete highways in the county. One is for the New Salem pike south of 4th city, another is for Eleventh street east of Main and extending to the Thomas J. Humes farm and the third is for a road in Center township. There is a remonstrance against the last named petition. The viewers on the New Salem pike and Eleventh street petitions may report favorably on brick instead of concrete. Brick costs very little more than concrete, it is stated.

In the party going to Detroit will be members of the board of commissioners, County Surveyor Cameron, the viewers on the Eleventh street and New Salem pike petitions, E. O. Humes and Walter and Albert Capp.

SHEEP KILLING DOGS ARE SCARCE

Reports of Township Trustees Reveal County is $1,773.30 Better Off Financially

THAT SUM MADE ON DOG FUND

Rushville Township Leads Having Paid Out $70.80 For Ravages
of Dogs During Year

Sheep killing dogs almost disappeared from Rush county during the year ending March 1. The reports of the township trustees have all been filed. They show that due to the small amount of live stock killed by dogs the county is better off financially in the sum of $1,773.30.

The trustees are compelled under the law to pay for all losses of live stock from stray dogs out of the dog fund and at the same time are compelled to have a balance on hand at the start of the year, March 1, of $100. This resulted in every township in the county and it was not necessary for a single trustee to draw on the county treasurer in order to make up a shortage.

The showing this year is in direct contrast with other years. In 1915 a large amount of live stock was killed and one township—Anderson—was short the sum of $32 in the dog fund. The total amount the county received in 1915 from dog tax was $785.35. The amount paid out for live stock killed varies year after year. In 1914 the county received the sum of $1,479. The largest sum the county has received in a period of six years with the exception of this year was $1,606.70 in 1911.

The money going into the dog fund comes from the tax collected on dogs. The following townships did not expend anything for losses: Ripley, Posey, Walker, Union. Center township lost one hog by the dog route and the trustee settled for the sum of $7.

The dogs in Rushville township had a liking for sheep and chickens. The sum of $46 was paid for sheep and $19 for chickens. The total expended in this township was $70.80. Rushville township paid out more than any other township and also took in more money. A total of $413.90 was collected in dog tax.

In Anderson township, the township that was short last year, $263 was collected in the dog fund and $88 was paid out. Washington township lost 11 head of sheep and Orange township paid out $33 for sheep and hogs.

Englishman Torpedoed When She Attempted to Escape

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 29.—The Ward merchant liner Englishman, which was sunk a few days ago, was shelled and torpedoed after attempting to escape, according to affidavits of American survivors cabled the state department from Liverpool today.

According to the affidavit of the captain of the Englishman, the vessel attempted to escape when approached by the submarine. After being shelled she dove to and then was torpedoed.

Judge John D. Megee, who has been in a sanatorium at Oxford, O., writes that he will be home in a few days.

DELEGATES ARE BEING BESIEGED

Those Going to Republican Convention Hear From First One Candidate and Then Another.

REPRESENTATIVES SENT HERE

District Delegation Will Nominate Delegates to National Convention Opening Night.

The delegates that are to represent Rush county in the Republican state convention which will be held in Indianapolis Wednesday and Thursday of next week, April 5 and 6, are being besieged almost every day by representatives of some candidates seeking nominations on the Republican state ticket.

The races for every state office alert. They have their agents going all over the state interviewing the delegates and presenting their claims to the nomination which they seek.

If candidates or their representatives can not see all of the delegates, they call by telephone, as has been the case in many instances in Rush county. Some delegates, of course, live on rural routes and can not be reached by rail.

The state convention will require the presence of the delegates both days because there will be something of importance going on from the opening to the close of the conventions. On the evening of April 5 the delegates will meet in district gatherings for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention, nominating candidates for the presidential electors and various state convention committees.

The primary changed the order of things this year. Heretofore the presidential electors and delegates to the national convention have been selected at the district convention when the candidate for congress was nominated. The meeting of the district delegates will likely be held in the state house. Other counties in the district will make it a point to have a full delegation present at the meeting, and it is expected that Rush will also.

The Republicans of the district will likely send Richard Elliott of Connersville and Tom Milligan of Newcastle to the national convention because they were recommended by the district committee at its organization meeting.

Although the senatorial nominations at one time threatened to overshadow all others, there is no doubt now but that they will be very mild and that the contests will hold more interest. It is practically agreed among Republicans Harry S. New will be chosen for the long term nomination to run against John W. Kern and James E. Watson of this city for the short term to contest with the Democratic convention nominee for the vacancy caused by the death of B. F. Shively.

WILL HOLD A CONFERENCE

Trustees Will Hear J. M. Wilson of Knightstown Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the township trustees, scheduled for next Monday afternoon will be held Tuesday instead in order that J. M. Wilson of Knightstown, a member of the legislative committee of the state association can attend. Mr. Wilson will address the trustees, but the meeting is to be in the nature of a conference.

JOHN RUPE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Richmond Man, Mentioned as Opponent of Watson, Says he is Not Seeking Nomination

IT IS A SURPRISE TO HIM

However, Has no Objection to Wayne County Delegates Presents Name if They Desire

Although John L. Rupe may have been mentioned in Richmond as a candidate for the short term nomination for United States senator at the Republican state convention next week, he is in no sense a candidate. Here are his own words for it, reprinted from the Richmond Palladium of yesterday.

"The announcement that Wayne county delegates are considering the presentation of my name for the Republican nomination as United States senator is a surprise to me," Mr. Rupe said today. "I am not in any sense a candidate for this or any other nomination but I have no objection to having my name presented to the convention if the Wayne county delegates decide to do so."

The Palladium, which can hardly be credited with exact veracity when reference is made to James E. Watson because of its antagonism to him, is sole authority for the statement that Rupe is being mentioned as an opponent of James E. Watson, since the latter is conceded to be the one to whom the nomination for the Shively seat in the senate should go. The Richmond Item, a wide awake newspaper, made no mention of Rupe's alleged candidacy. The boom apparently had not penetrated beyond the Richmond Palladium office.

Rupe says that he is not in any sense a candidate, so it is not likely that he will be seriously considered by the convention. Sentiment seems to have crystallized in favor of Watson for the short term. Delegations from counties which he did carry in the primary are reported to be for him.

The Palladium says that Nimrod Johnson of Richmond, delegate from the fifth ward, declared that a meeting of state delegates would be arranged for Thursday or Friday to consider ways and means for presenting the name of Rupe to the convention. Rupe is an attorney, ex-president of the Indiana Bar association and past grand commander of the Knights Templars of Indiana. Men here who are acquainted with him say that he has never taken a very active part in state politics.

The Veiled Woman

She will be easily recognized this season, for veils are the thing. Everyone is wearing them and never were there veils of such wondrous texture and beautiful design.

The cost of some of them run into figures that mere man would probably count extravagant—but no woman would.

The news of the new veillings is given from time to time in the advertising of The Daily Republican.

But then the advertising columns are the place one expects to find such interesting information.

BIG SLAUGHTER IS PREDICTED

Experts in Touch With War Forecast That Fighting in Next 5 Months Will be Great.

BOTH SIDES GETTING READY

Battle's Will Likely be Attended by Worst Bloodshed in History of the World.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, March 15.—(By Mail)—Men who have been in closest touch with every move of the world war to date are beginning to forecast that the next five months will bring an unparalleled burst of battle, attended by the worst bloodshed in the world's history.

The immense waste of human life and materials before Verdun, greater than that which shocked the world at Liege and Namur, has demonstrated, the experts say, that if this war goes on to the bitter end, no phase of history, ancient, medieval or modern, will compare with the slaughter. One military critic said today:

"The almost impregnable character of the defenses on the Western front, which have been building for eighteen months, make it suicide for the first line of any assaulting body of troops. When a commander orders a battalion to the assault and posts the reserves in the rear ready to follow, he knows that the people attacked will be captured by the reserves, if captured at all.

"He cannot help but know in advance that the first line will melt away before the fire of the opposing side. Before the reserves reach their objective over the bodies of their comrades, they too, may have been decimated by the machine gun, rifle and cannon fire which protects the trenches on every mile of the front that runs from the North Sea to Switzerland.

"No one can blame the commanders for the course they are bound to take. It is war. The men, too, are not unwilling to make the sacrifice. Those in the front ranks know that their chance is slim. The best they can ask for is a wound from which they will ultimately recover. Months of monotonous trench warfare are responsible for this. The men are willing and ready for anything that means a diversion from the stalemate of the past year and a half.

"What will happen on the Western front will be repeated on the Eastern, where both the Russians and Germans have been working feverishly for months entrenching, fortifying, constructing wire entanglements and placing heavy ordnance pieces sufficient to sweep the ground for miles around."

At Salonica, where the Allies hurriedly dug themselves in and have gradually fortified their holdings to almost impregnability, the cost of taking the Greek port for the Central Powers would far exceed its military worth.

Throughout all the theatres, the coming Spring will see the greatest activity of the war, attended by the slaughter which conditions make inevitable, the military experts are saying.

Nor will the slaughter be limited to soldiers, some forecasts declare. It is believed in some circles that Zeppelins will take heavy toll of civilian populations in many quarters. Reports from Friedrichshafen, on Lake Constance, say that the Zeppelin factory there is turning out twelve or sixteen Zeppelins a month. The German Parseval and Schultze-Lange factories, located elsewhere also are reported active to an extent of ten times their normal output.

This great monthly addition to the German aerial fleet, the experts are inclined to think, must forecast hitherto unexampled air raiding everywhere. The question of the air defense of London is being debated in Parliament and with the appointment of Lord Derby as Air Minister, the public is beginning to have confidence in the ability of the aerial defenders to deal with the Zeppelin menace. Steps in the right direction have been taken in many places. The renewed activity of the Ger-

FILTH MEANS FLIES.

Flies love to feast on filth and then get into the house and wipe their feet on your cake or on baby's bottle. Screen your house.

It is true they are nature's scavengers, but they spread filth and disease in doing their work, and, besides, it is better to be your own scavenger by keeping clean than to have the flies do it for you, for not only is the fly a dangerous companion, but clean people are beginning to suspect that those who have flies about them are dirty housekeepers.

If therefore you wish to bear a reputation for cleanliness in your neighborhood be sure that your trash and manure heaps are frequently removed and that your house is properly screened.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Oil

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

A Natural Course.

The Indiana Forum is a weekly democratic paper established six months ago at Indianapolis to represent the anti-machine element of the party in Indiana. In its issue of last Saturday the Forum comments on the appointment of Tom Taggart as senator and asks the question whether Governor Ralston could have picked another person who would be such a complete outrage to the real democracy and respectable citizenship in Indiana?

The Forum is of course making an up-hill fight but it is not without intelligent and sympathetic followers and it goes on from week to week zealously contending for cleaner politics in its party. Of the Taggart appointment the Forum says:

"Governor Samuel Ralston this week made his one bid for fame by appointing Thomas Taggart to the United States senate to fill the vacancy made by the death of Benjamin F. Shively. The genial Tom who some thirty odd years ago was the proprietor of the railroad eating house in Indianapolis now dons a toga and takes his place in the senate—a body supposed to be representative of the best ability, the highest ideals and the purest patriotism in the country.

"Mr. Ralston behaved very properly when the time came. He didn't hesitate. He didn't trust the message to the United States mails but delivered it into the hands of one of the faithful who carried it to the citadel in the Denison house where Tom was waiting.

"No good democrat will abuse the governor for his appointment. He had no choice in the matter. He was a victim of the order that produced him. Thus again is a well meaning governor and a very likable man made to bear the brunt of criticism for the short-sighted policies of his friends.

"Taggart in the senate! We shall now see what effect Plato water and Terre Haute beer has on international diplomacy."

It is more than a year since it was complained that most of the shells fired by the English and French came from the United States but the British estimate that even now only 8 percent of their shells are American and the French report that they have as yet used no American shells at all but expect to use them as soon as they can get them.

Mexico, however, will not be a Belgium this trip.

A Rushville Interview

Mr. Priest Tells His Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Rushville man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Geo. Priest, 223 W. Third street, Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for years. It came on me gradually and each day I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended for such ailments and I got a box to be the best medicine of the kind I had ever used. In a short time they freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915, Mr. Priest said: "Whenever my kidneys bother me, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me good results. My former endorsement still holds good."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Priest has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

HUNDRED LEADING HOOSIERS

Joseph G. Marshall (24)

Of Joseph G. Marshall, it is said Indiana never produced his equal in breadth and strength of intellect. Among the members of the bar, he was called the "Sleeping Lion," and when once aroused, he could stir the passion and sway the feelings of people as no other lawyer. He was born in Kentucky, the son of a Presbyterian minister; was graduated from Transylvania University, in 1823, and settled in Madison, the home of many famous lawyers. Marshall's ability placed him in the front rank, and in 1830 was elected Probate Judge. He was twice prevented from going to the United States senate—1844 and 1850. The Whigs and Anti-Nebraska parties had a majority, but the democrats refused to sit in the election. In 1846, Marshall was the Whig nominee for governor, but was defeated by James Whitcomb. In 1849 he declined the appointment as governor of Oregon territory, tendered by President Taylor. Marshall was the bitter political opponent of Jesse P. Bright, and these two giants had many spirited encounters. In 1852 they went to Louisville to fight a duel, but due to the influence of friends, it was called off.

Jesse D. Bright (con) (23)

Jesse D. Bright served sixteen years in the United States senate. He never attained high rank as a debater, but his personal qualities made him the idol of the democrats, and upon the death of Vice-President King, Bright was elected President pro-tempore of the senate. He refused to assign Chase, Sumner, and Hale to places on committees due to their anti-slavery views. In 1857 President Buchanan offered Senator Bright a cabinet position, secretary of state, but he declined. In July, 1861 he was expelled from the senate on the charge of treason for writing a letter to Jefferson Davis recommending its bearer with an improved fire-arm. Upon returning to Indiana, he allied himself with the Breckenridge democrats and was defeated by the Douglas faction. Thus disappointed, he removed to Kentucky, served two terms in the legislature and was mentioned as the democratic choice for United States senator, but declined to make the race. He moved to Baltimore in 1874, died the following year and was buried there.

LONTZ STILL A DEMOCRAT

Defeated Candidate For Congress

Will Support Ticket

When the story came from Richmond that John M. Lontz, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for congress, was "sore," because he was "knifed" in the primary and would be a "free lance" Democrat henceforth, the Shelbyville Democrat wrote Lontz, who is touring the south, to find if what his Richmond friends had said were true. Lontz has just replied with a telegram that the state and national administrations deserved approval and that he would cast his vote for the Democratic party next November.

NEW YORKER WILL SPEAK

Henry D. Estabrook to Address Republican State Convention

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Henry D. Estabrook of New York, who is numbered among the most powerful Republican orators of the country, yesterday accepted an invitation to address the Republican state convention in Indianapolis on the afternoon of April 5. Mr. Estabrook has long been a practicing attorney in New York and has been looked on by some of his friends as a presidential possibility. In this connection it is noted that with the coming of Mr. Estabrook to Indiana practically every Republican who is mentioned as a possible presidential nominee has made a speech in this state. J. W. Fessler, who was announced as the temporary chairman, has announced he can not accept because of the death of his law partner, J. B. Elam.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Cora D. Baker was born Jan. 22 1880 in Shelby Co., Ind., being a daughter of Warren and Sytha Ann Levi.

She was united in marriage to Geo. H. Baker Aug. 1, 1907. During the ministry of J. H. McNeill she became a member of the Main St. Christian Church and here her membership remained until promoted, we trust, to the church triumphant.

Mrs. Baker was a member of Dr. C. H. Gilbert's Bible Class and was the recipient of kindly ministrations at the hands of the other members of that class during her sickness.

Five months ago she became afflicted with Bright's disease with heart complications and during all this period though suffering was off times intense she was patient bearing with Christian grace her heavy affliction.

As the darkness of the night of death slowly gathered she became conscious that the end was near and with Christian fortitude began to lay her plans and make what arrangements were essential for her burial as she bravely and faithfully trusted God to care for her soul, going to meet Him not eringingly and in fear but bravely and in faith.

Her loved ones say that she was a kind and indulgent mother a devoted wife and a true friend and neighbor.

She is survived by her husband, two sons Clelland and Wallace, a daughter Dorothy dying in infancy, and by one sister Rosa Levi and two brothers, Arthur and Albert Levi.

Mrs. Joe Cowing, who was operated on recently at the Sexton sanatorium, will return to her home tomorrow.

Democratic Rebels Who Refused to Restore Duty on Sugar Reveal Point of Attack

WOULD CUT OFF REVENUE

Thus Will They Hamstring The Administration by Refusing to
Make up Treasury Deficit

Washington, March 29.—The thirteen Democrats in the House of Representatives who refused to vote for the restoration of the duties on sugar have revealed the point of attack which Democratic rebels will make upon the Wilson programme of legislation this winter. They will attempt to hamstring the administration by refusing to provide the revenue which will be required to meet the Democratic deficit in the Treasury and to pay for the military preparedness which the White House
will urge.

In this, it is believed, they will find a good many coadjutors in Democratic ranks. Indeed, it is now whispered here, the advice
which Bryan gave his men when the McLemore resolution was under consideration was to save all their strength for the supreme test of the taxation scheme which the administration will be compelled to present.
The number of those who will be amenable to this advice is variously reckoned as from forty to seventy—but at any rate it is sufficient to cause a good deal of worryment to
the party chieftains.

The sugar bill was by far the
least objectionable of all the measures which will come under the head of revenue legislation. It contained provisions to which the Democrats have voted adherence in every tariff revision until the last one, yet a sufficient number of Democrats refused to support it to have destroyed the party control of the House
if the vote had proceeded along party lines. As it was, however, the Republicans could and did vote
with eagerness for this piece of Republican policy endorsed by a Democratic committee and the bill easily passed.

The forthcoming revenue bills will not be of this nature, however, and
the Republicans will be justified in withholding their endorsement unless their views are considered in framing the legislation. It has already been demonstrated that the Democrats cannot accomplish anything of their own strength and the control of the capital legislation of the session has passed into the hands of the Republicans.

TOO MANY CIGARETTES

Judge Held They Were Responsible
For Neglect of Children.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—If
a father smokes enough cigarettes
he can be found guilty in Marion county of neglecting his children.
Judge Frank J. LaGr in juvenile court served notice that smoking
cigarettes, if carried to extreme,
constitutes a violation of the child
neglect statute.

Earl Crail testified he had smoked thirty cigarettes a day for fifteen years. "You are guilty, as charged of neglecting your children," said
the judge without more ado.

Statisticians estimated that Crail
had smoked about 164,250 cigarettes at a cost of $1,000.

Amusements

The Princess will show the third chapter of "The Strange Case of Mary Page," for the first picture tonight. The court room scene is continued and is very realistic. The second picture is a railroad drama
"The Haunted Station." Helen Gibson is featured. The last is a comedy entitled "Insomnia." Billy Reeves is featured. Tomorrow with matinees at 1:30 o'clock and 3:45
o'clock and evening at 6:45 and 9:15 the big spectacular feature,
"The Battle Cry of Peace" will be shown. The picture is timely because of the lesson in preparedness
it teaches. The scenes are wonderful. Tickets for the night shows are on sale at Fox Brothers drug store.

The Mystic will show a three act
drama "Nan O' The Backwoods"
for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a fine production. The other is a one act drama entitled
"The Shadow of Fear." Tomorrow
the three act drama "The Reaping"
will be shown.

The Gem offers a four reel program tonight. The first is a two act society drama "The Tragic Circle." Harold Lockwood and May Allison are featured. The last two are comedies "Keeping up with the Joneses" and "Seeing America
First." Tomorrow matinee and night
the five act feature, "The Man from Oregon" will be shown. Clara Williams and Howard Hickman are featured.

STORY OF WELL

L. J. Stiner Talks of The Speedy Relief He Received Through
Tanlac

Anderson, Ind., March 29.—Levi
J. Stiner, a well known employe of the Hill Standard Manufacturing
Co., who lives at 2130 Park avenue,
Anderson, recently said regarding his experiences with Tanlac, the Master Medicine:

"Stomach trouble caused me great annoyance and trouble for a long time. My food would not digest properly causing constipation of the worst kind. My kidneys, also, were irregular. I felt badly all through the day and was unable to sleep with any degree of satisfaction at night.

"I began improving almost from the first few doses of Tanlac. I have been taking the medicine a short time now, and I feel like a different man. My appetite has improved, gas has disappeared from my stomach, and I sleep through the night as peacefully as a child."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine,
which made a new man of Mr. Stiner, is being taken with equally beneficial results by thousands of Indiana people. Tanlac is excellent for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, loss of appetite, insomnia,
coughs, colds, catarrhal complaints
and is a general tonic and system
purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in Rushville, at F. E. WOLCOTT'S drug store.

Social Calendar

Thursday

Social Dozen, with Mrs. Will G. Smith in North Main street, in the afternoon.

Knights of Pythias dance, in the hall beginning at 8:30 p. m.

Ladies Aid society of the Catholic church, with Mrs. Frank Abercrombie of West Fourth street, assisted of Mrs. Jacob Schantz.

Grand Club, with Mrs. A. L. Riggs at 538 North Perkins street in the afternoon.

Several theatre parties are forming to attend the matinees and evening performances of "The Battle Cry of Peace" which will be shown at the Princess tomorrow.

LOTUS CLUB

The members of the Lotus Club spent a delightful evening together on Monday when they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Sexton at their home in North Main street. With cards and conversation, the affair was a pleasant one. Light refreshments were served. Mrs. D. C. Green, of Salt Lake City was among the players.

Among those from this city who saw, "The Birth of a Nation" in Connorsville yesterday were Mrs. Douglas Morris, Mrs. Pearson, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Offutt, Miss Margaret Kelly, Leo King, John Schrieche, Tom Horral, Will Fitzgerald, Miss May Gray, Dr. and Mrs. Osborn, of Glenwood, Mr. and Mrs. John Linville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, and Vincent Gray.

SEWING PARTIES

Great interest has been shown in the preparations for the Easter bazaar to be held by the Immaculata Sodality. Each week sewing parties are being held to complete articles for the bazaar. Last evening, the divisions met with Miss Salome Schrieche, Miss Ruth Cough and the Misses Beatrice and Marie McNamara, when groups of girls gathered with their fancy work and spent a social evening together.

WITH MRS. CROSS

With the members of her card club as guests, Mrs. Clarence Cross entertained with a pretty little bridge this afternoon. This meeting equaled the previous ones in social delight for the guests who enjoyed several interesting games. An elaborate and delicious luncheon was served by the hostess at the close of the games. Mrs. D. C. Green of Salt Lake City was among the charming group of guests that gathered about the card tables.

LADIES AID SOCIETY

Over fifty members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church were present at the meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Will Mulno when she was assisted by

Bowling—that's the thing! With the same vigor that the enthusiasts learned the new dances, and lovers of athletics hied to the ice when the season was on, have plans been laid for the bowling clubs, the organization of most of them being under way. The installation of the new alleys has served as an impetus for congenial crowds to group together in order that social pleasure may be enjoyed along with the popular athletic pastime. Some have been organized with memories of similar organizations in former days, while other clubs are to make their initial attempts in bowling. They are of all ages and all sizes, varying from six couples to twice that number. Each, however, has been organized with the same purpose to supplement the lessons in becoming skillful in the art of bowling with an evening of fun and jollity, at each of the semi-monthly meetings.

Mrs. Link Guffin and Mrs. Richard Abernathy. Mrs. Watson, as president, presided over the business meetings. Mrs. George Wiltse was taken in as a new member of the society. During a pleasant social time after the business meeting, a light luncheon was served by the hostesses.

DINNER PARTY

Aaron-Ward roses, the sorority flower, were used in the decorations at the dinner party given last night at the home of Miss Alma Green by the first division of Psi Iota Xi for the entire sorority. Candles, in the sorority colors, were placed about the table and from them a soft light was cast about the room. Seventeen guests were present to enjoy the two-course dinner which was served and participate in the pleasantly social evening, of music and chat which followed. In the party were Mrs. George Dehority, of Elwood, and Miss Lucile Linn, the new pledge of the sorority.

CLASS MEETING

The members of the Watson class of the M. E. Sunday school were entertained by Mrs. Homer Havens at her home last evening. A large attendance was present to participate in the business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. George Aultman and enjoy the social good time which followed. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses who included the members of the third division, Mrs. Grant Gregg, Miss Sue Gregg, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. Link Guffin, Mrs. Lon Havens, Mrs. Charles Hugo, Mrs. Raymond Hargrove, Mrs. Sam Innis, and Miss Libbie Hackleman.

INVITATION

The many club women in Rush county will be interested in the following invitation which appeared in the Indianapolis Star:

All Indiana club women are cordially invited to attend the opening of the great Columbian Highway at Portland, Ore., and are promised all the roses they want on that occasion. A pleasant letter has come, signed "Lillie G. Harrington, Ella Huston and Mary E. Miller," and I am asked to extend this invitation all over the state. Mrs. Huston is the wife of the president of the Indiana Society of Portland, at whose house a reception was given delegates to the council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mitchell's orchestra of this city will play for the dance to be given by the Cosmopolitan Club of Anderson this evening and for a dance in Newcastle on Friday evening.

HALL-MCBRIDE

Miss Lura Hall and Gail McBride were quietly married Monday by the Rev. C. M. Yocum at the parsonage. The young couple is from Mays, where they will make their future home. After the ceremony, they left for a short wedding trip to Indianapolis.

The hosts for the Knights of Pythias dance to be given in the hall tomorrow evening are busy already in decorating for the affair and carrying out the plans which will make it probably the most elaborate dance of the year. From indications one of the largest crowds will be in attendance that has yet been present at one of their delightful affairs. Mitchell's three-piece orchestra will play for the dance.

MRS. WEIR AS HOSTESS

Another of the semi-monthly meetings of the R. M. C. Club of New Salem was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Ella Weir at her pretty home there. Crocheting and embroidery work, which amused the ladies during the afternoon, made the hours short ones. Potted plants were tastefully used in the floral decorations for the affair. A dainty refection, served by the hostess, brought the meeting to a close. Aside from the club members, the guests were Mrs. Amanda McKee, Mrs. Luella Stewart and daughter, Ruby, and Mrs. Will Matney of Laurel. The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Beulah Murphy.

NEW OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the United Presbyterian church which was held yesterday with Mrs. George Puntenny, at her home in West Third street. Mrs. Puntenny was elected to fill the presidency, in the place of Mrs. T. M. Green, who is the outgoing president. Mrs. Edwards is vice-president for the coming year, and Miss Anna Mary Cowan is secretary-treasurer. Other matters of business were discussed in the short business session which was followed by a charming social hour during which time the ladies chatted, sewed and were served to dainty refreshments.

NOVELTY DANCE

Feature dances of all kinds carried out the name given the dance in the Elks hall last evening, which was a "Novelty Dance," and to necessitated a jolly time for all of the guests, by the original plans that had been laid for it. Being a leap year affair several of the dances were ladies choices, while in the majority of them partners were chosen in novel ways. In the "Post-Office" dance, letters were passed out to the ladies who danced with the gentleman to whom the letter was written; in another cards were matched for partners; in one, corresponding numbers found the partners; the ladies chose their company in another by selecting them from their shoes which stuck from beneath a black curtain; cards were placed in the ladies hands which stuck out from the curtain and they danced with the gentleman whose card they held; in still another, the ladies chose a hat from the pile and danced with the owner; and others

Exquisite Draperies

in a riot of colors and fabrics

Never have we shown such an unlimited assortment from which to choose, nor have the patterns and combinations of wonderful colors been more beautiful. Whatever may be your scheme of interior decoration, we are reasonably sure we can please you. At any rate, let us show you.

Drapery's newest departure is featured in the delightful color combinations in cretons, which are used now for nearly every purpose, whether for sun-porch, living room, dining room, library or bed rooms. You will be more than pleased with the splendid patterns.

Then there are scores of chintzes, marquises, nets, scrims, repps, and velours. Sun-fast overdrapes are among our specialties, and every shade is included in the showing.

Ready-made curtains of net, marquise and scrim are here in hundreds of styles, and portieres in several colors are offered.

each of which was as clever as it was informal. During the program of dances, a delicious luncheon was served in buffet style. Mitchell's orchestra furnished good music throughout the evening. Among the guests were Miss Taylor of Indianapolis and Mrs. J. G. Nicholas of Denver, Col. About twenty-five couples were in attendance.

MRS. JOHN CARSON EXPIRES SUDDENLY

Abscess in Her Throat Affects Heart
and End Comes Today at Home Near Raleigh.

LEAVES HUSBAND AND 3 BOYS

Mrs. Rebecca Carson, 31 years old, wife of John T. Carson, died this morning at seven o'clock at her home, one mile south of Raleigh. Mrs. Carson had been ill only a short time suffering from an abscess of the throat and this affected her heart. Last evening she came near choking to death and this morning the end came suddenly.

Mrs. Carson was a member of the Raleigh Christian church and was well known in that part of the county. She is survived by her husband and three sons, Joe, Ernest and Jesse. She is also survived by several brothers and sisters. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TAGGART WILL GET IN RACE

Will Seek Nomination For Senator
at Convention.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 29.—Thomas Taggart, senator by appointment from Indiana, is a candidate for the nomination at the Democratic convention. Taggart has already announced the decision privately and will make a public statement in a few days.

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil-food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

Swift's Fertilizers Continue to Make Winners

If you used Swift's Fertilizer and obtained the best yield in the state you would, of course, give our fertilizer the credit that was due it. NOW, if the following year's Champion used Swift's and this performance repeated from year to year, you naturally would begin to think that Swift's Red Steer Brand is a pretty good fertilizer, would you not?

Look at the Record and Decide Yourself.

There can be no better proof of the value of a fertilizer than the records made by those who use it. There must be merit in a fertilizer that produces the results stated below:

Mr. Will Essig, Tipton, Indiana—131 bushels corn per acre. The largest yield of which there is any record in Indiana. Mr. Essig was recently awarded a gold medal at the Panama Exposition. Used SWIFT'S.

Mr. Norris McHenry, Elizabethtown, Ind.—112 bushels per acre. Winner of the Indiana 1914 Men's Five Acre Corn Contest. Used SWIFT'S. In 1915 he was induced to use other than Swift's Fertilizer and got no prize.

Mr. F. R. McHenry, Norris' father—used no fertilizer in 1914 and won no prize, but as his son won the State Championship in 1914 with the aid of Swift's Fertilizer, Mr. McHenry used Swift's in 1915, got 87.3 bushels of ripe corn per acre and won the sweepstakes for men in the Bartholomew County Five Acre Corn Contest.

The 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes for the highest yields of good quality corn in the 1915 Five Acre Corn Contest for men in Bartholomew County, Indiana, all went to users of Swift's Fertilizer. Also in the Boys' One Acre Corn Contest in the same county, the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes went to users of Swift's Fertilizer.

The Ohio 1914 Champion Corn Grower, Arnett Rose, Alger, Ohio—153.9 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Ohio 1915 Champion Corn Grower, Dewey Haines, Arcanum, Ohio—154 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Indiana 1914 Boy Champion Corn Grower, Roy Friedersdorf, Elizabethtown, Ind.—128.8 bu.—used SWIFT'S. Gordon Reap, Elizabethtown, Indiana, who was third last year, is County Champion with 105.73 bushels. He also used SWIFT'S this year.

There certainly MUST be something in Swift's Fertilizers that PRODUCES RESULTS. Swift's blood, bone and tankage fertilizers make prize winners.

If YOU do not use Swift's Fertilizers, you are not sure that you are using the best fertilizer obtainable. You want the best—then buy SWIFT'S—the Red Steer Brand.

WET AND DRY LEGAL BATTLE STARTED

Court Will Determine Fate of Elwood—Appeal Taken From Commissioners' Court.

CLAIM RECOUNT WAS WRONG

(By United Press.)

Anderson, Ind., March 29.—The legal battle which will decide whether Elwood is to be a wet or dry city for the next 2 years opened in superior court here today before Judge W. S. Ellis. The court will decide an appeal from the county commissioners who decided that Elwood voted wet although the face of the returns gave the election to the drys by a slight margin.

The drys have filed a motion to dismiss the petition of the wets for a recount and attacked the validity of the petition today. Another dry motion asks the court to enter judgment on the face of the election returns.

A demurrer also has been filed to the petition for recount, claiming that the petition contains no allegation that any ballots have been preserved so that a recount could be made; that ballots illegally counted were protested; that ballots not counted by election boards were not properly marked for identification or that ballots not counted have been preserved or are on file.

TROOPS IN MEXICO FACE HARDSHIPS; CLIMATE AND DUST CAUSE SUFFERING

Dispatch Bearer, Ill, Tells First Story of March of Pershing's Men Through the Deserts.

Found All the Towns Deserted With Exception of One or Two Decrepit Old Men.

WITH re-enforcements being rushed to the support of the United States troops now in Mexico and on the border and with the possibility that the entire national guard may be ordered to the frontier, the interests of the country are centered there today.

General Pershing, with his force, the first to enter Mexico, faced the kind of warfare that had been predicted. He scoured the mountains for traces of the outlaw band which attacked Columbus, N. M.

There are several varieties of hell on earth, and among them must be included an infantry hike along the dusty roads of northern Mexico, says one correspondent.

It is bad enough on the cavalry; it is tough on the horse artillery, and it is the dust and on into the bones of the men who came staggering in at nightfall the first couple of days too weary to do anything but fall in heaps and pant.

Men Rush For Water Holes.

Now when they get in the first inquiry is for the water holes, and there is a wild rush to bathe. They are coming in with their blistered feet taped, but they are coming in with their heads up.

There will be much said, no doubt, about some of the marches made by the horse soldiers of Pershing's command later on, but there will never be any march that will equal any of the marches made by the foot soldiers of the punitive expedition after Villa.

During the first couple of days it was a common sight to see captains and lieutenants carrying guns and down the long line of march into Chihuahua.

Propped up in his bed at the isolation hospital at Fort Bliss, suffering from dysentery and at times barely able to speak from an affection of his vocal cords caused by the alkali dust, the sergeant said:

"When we went in the sun was burning hot, there was not a breath of air stirring, and the dust soon hung over the road like a curtain. It got into our eyes and mouths, and we could hardly breathe. It bothered the horses too. Many of the boys put wet handkerchiefs into their hats to keep the sun from boring into their skulls and rode along with closed eyes to keep out the dust and glare. Goggles didn't seem to help.

Men Half Blinded by Dust.

"Many of the men were half blinded in a couple of hours. The infantrymen would stumble along with their eyes shut as much as possible. Soon my eyes began to itch around the edges, then they felt as big as camp kettles, and finally everything got dark. I had inhaled a lot of the alkali dust and my throat began to get sore.

"After two hours' travel the faces of the boys looked like painted Indians. Everybody was perspiring freely. The dust would settle on their faces and then the sweat would run down, leaving a little furrow.

"As far back as you could see there was nothing but a line of dust. Men could not be distinguished.

"When we reached Las Palomas we

hard on the men of the wagon trains and the motor trucks and even the little cars, that go buzzing by in white clouds.

But way, way back in the ruck, back in the track of all the hoofs and wheels that move General Pershing's flying columns steadily across the state of Chihuahua, tramps the infantry, taking the dust of the whole long drive after Francisco Villa.

The first couple of days these "dough boys" could be found scattered along the roads in squads nursing their sore and blistered feet while waiting for the ambulances to get up. Now they come swinging down the Mexican highway into camp with scarcely a man missing from the ranks.

They were "soft" in the beginning. Their feet were tender. The sixty-five pound pack on their backs tugged at their hearts after the first few miles of the morning. Now they are gradually growing hardened and inured to the work.

Horses and mules died during the first couple of days and were left to the coyotes and the buzzards that trail every column. Cavalrymen rode in saddle sore, but the men plodded along and made their camps every night, limping a little, but still afoot.

Their very souls are steeped in dust during these marches. It is hot overhead. It is powdery soft under foot. The grind of the wagon wheels and the churn of the horses' hoofs have cut the dry roads to chalk.

A marching man inhales that dust with every breath. It settles in his clothing; it settles in his eyes, in his throat and in his ears.

By night a chill comes on from the mountains surrounding the valley through which the troops are marching. This chill got down in under packs belonging to their men who were unable to keep up under the load. Every officer shared his canteen of water with the privates.

Lieutenant Henry Meyers, riding at the head of M troop of the black Tenth cavalry, stopped his command beside a footweary band of infantrymen and made the troopers give their water over to the "dough boys."

All things considered, the horses and mules with the expedition have stood the journey well, the losses being comparatively insignificant, but the infantry has been wonderful.

Mexicans Amazed by Expedition.

The few Mexicans encountered stand at the roadside and view the long procession of Americans, that must seem to them interminable, in dumb amazement. They offer no comment, however, but rush around hunting up eggs and other articles to sell to the soldiers. The squadron of seven aeroplanes which passed over the line of march from Columbus, headed south and moving so high that they looked like a flock of buzzards, reduced the Mexicans to silent wonder.

The equipment of the army division that is swinging over their roads was another source of astonishment to the inhabitants. They are accustomed to armies, but not to an army which moves like this one.

Marching has been about the extent of the activities of the punitive expedition to date. No hostility has been encountered from the natives.

A vivid story of the drive into Mexico in search of Villa was told by Sergeant W. H. Harrison, Troop M, Thirtieth cavalry. He was a dispatch rider for Colonel Galbraith, chief of staff, and traveled several times up and went right down through the streets. One regiment of infantry stopped and camped there for the night and all of the next day.

"There was not a soul in that whole town. It was weird. We heard a flock of ducks quacking and saw a couple of goats, but not a human being.

Found All Towns Deserted.

"At the next town—Bocas Grandes—it was practically the same. We found three peons sitting in the sun. The rest of the place was like a grave. We understood the inhabitants had fled to the hills.

"Just outside of Bocas Grandes we found the body of a cowboy who had been killed by Villa on his way to Columbus. He had been tortured and his hands were burned to a crisp.

"Finding all the towns deserted, we began to worry, and scouts were sent through the hills and outposts established on the tops of the surrounding hills.

"During the marches the boys stopped ten minutes every hour to rest. When the word was given they just dropped in their tracks right in the road. Most of them would lie on their backs, covering their faces with their hats. No stops for dinner were made. It was one steady hike from morning until we reached the camping place. The infantry was strung out so they would be a day's march apart.

"There are a lot of the boys pretty sick, but they are afraid they will be sent back if they mention it, so they hang on.

"On the whole, we were fed pretty well. We had hardtack and canned 'Willie'—that's corned beef. Sometimes we got a little bacon. Once I copped a 'war baby.' That is what soft bread is called."

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. WM. GREEN, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Hupmobile

What are you interested in when you go to buy an automobile? Is it 70 miles an hour over dead horse hill on high gear; 40 miles an hour from a standing start in ten seconds. A car with so many features that to read the advertisement of it seems more like reading a story in Arabian Knights than a present day creation. Or would you be more interested in how much comfort is built in. And that other item—Cost of maintenance, tire mileage, gasoline consumption, garage bills, those things that vitally effect the pocketbook, in which everyone is interested and about which so little is said.

Will they give me any tangible evidence that I will get the kind of service that I feel I have a right to expect? Proof of the pudding is chewing the bag. Give us a chance to show you what has been done by cars we represent, then draw your own conclusions.

WAR CHEST OF NAPOLEON SOLD

The Most Interesting and Priceless Collection of Relics Offered at Auction.

WAS BROUGHT HERE IN 1816

Includes Some Belongings of Marie Antionette—New York is Disappointed.

(By United Press.)

New York, March 29.—To the highest bidder today at an auction in West Forty-fifth street will go Napoleon's War Chest and his bed, Marie Antionette's vanity case and the boxful of other personal belongings she took with her to prison; also dozens of other personal effects of Kings and Queens, Dukes and Duchesses and other nobles.

The sale is that of one of the most interesting and priceless Napoleonic collections in the world. It is known as the Stephen Jumel collection and was brought to America by Jumel in 1816, when he took a ship to Europe to bring back the dethroned Emperor. The collection is being sold by Jumel's descendants. It has been thought for many years that the collection would be presented to the City of New York.

Mme. Jumel married Aaron Burr in 1833, a year after Stephen Jumel died. It was to her that Napoleon presented his battered leather war chest, designed and used by him in all his campaigns from Toulon to Waterloo. With its secret key, Napoleon gave Mme. Jumel the chest the day before he sailed for St. Helena.

Also to be auctioned is Napoleon's bed, which he used in 1800. It is mahogany. The medallions on the headboard represent Power and Wisdom in the profile bust of Minerva, helmeted with an owl atop.

The medallions are crusted with palm tree and seven stars, all representing great deeds. There also is Napoleon's chestboard, chess table and chairs with which he played so much.

Napoleon's clock is unique in design and exquisitely dainty in workmanship. It represents Minerva approaching Appollo as he goes to war. The Roman faces at each corner, the chariot with its charging steeds, the lion facing the spear and the wreath of laurels all typify the qualities which dominated Napoleon.

In the collection is the golden eagle, Napoleon's insignia, with wings spread and head and body poised to strike. After his downfall Mme. Jumel retained the emblem in their house in Paris.

Other Napoleonic relics include two candlesticks belonging to Louis XVIII., a tapestry used by Hortense, Queen of Holland, daughter of Josephine; chairs, sofa, centre table and consular table, forming part of Charles X's drawing room suite, still in its original upholstery, and a fan belonging to the Duchesse de Berry.

There are six chairs that belonged to Marie Antionette and the box used to carry some of her belongings to prison, a table on which Voltaire wrote, which was presented to Mme. Jumel by the Prince Talleyrand, and many paintings, including a portrait of Mme. Jumel in Rome and portrait of the Duchess de la Valliere by Mignard.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.

URGES ACTION ON 1-CENT POSTAGE

Rep. W. R. Wood Comments on Fact That Letter to England Costs Same as Local Delivery.

IS NOT A PROPER SCHEDULE

Recalls Experts Have Said Cost of Local Letter Delivery Does Not Exceed Fourth of Cent.

Washington, March 29.—Commenting on the proposition before Congress to reduce the rate of postage from 2 cents to 1 cent on local delivery letters Representative William R. Wood, of Indiana, today said, that it was a matter of such importance as to justify early action. At the present time the 2 cent rate is applicable to all sealed letters.

"This rate is not an equitable one," said Mr. Wood. "There is no sound reason why a patron of the postal service should be required to pay as much to send a letter to his next door neighbor as to a distant point. In fact a letter may now be sent to England, Germany, Alaska, Hawaii, or the Philippines for the same amount it costs for the delivery of a local letter."

"Although the individual charge is not great on any one letter yet the schedule of rates has never been fixed properly according to our American ideas of making charge for service performed. Postal experts inform us that the average cost to the Government for handling a local letter does not exceed one-fourth of a cent each; and further under the one cent rate the volume of mail will increase to such an extent as not to affect the revenues. In view of this condition there should, in my opinion, not be any further delay in enacting the required legislation providing a one cent rate on local delivery letters."

"Early in the session I introduced a bill providing for a readjustment of this condition but as yet the Postal Committee has not seen fit to report it. However, sometime ago that committee began holding hearings on my bill and others containing somewhat similar provisions. It is understood that several members of the committee feel disposed to favorably report a bill at an early date. Should this be done there seems little doubt but what the

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system.

They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Battle Cry Of Peace To Be Shown Here Is Call To Arms

"The Battle Cry of Peace," which will be seen in four performances at the Princess theater Thursday, matinee and night, is a call to arms against war. It is a Vitagraph feature that has attracted immense audiences in the larger cities of the United States. The topic is especially timely in the light of European war, the fever heat to which the preparedness question has risen and the Mexican question. Some excellent criticisms of the marvelous photoplay have been written, the following by Charles Henry Meltzer of the New York American being typical:

With all the lessons of the day's news in their minds—with many warnings to prepare them for a shock—a small, but far from unimportant of the New York world last night passed from the light and joy of Broadway into the Hell of War.

It happened in the heart of Long Acre; in the theatre which is called the Vitagraph.

The bills announced "The Battle Cry of Peace." Outside the theatre men were selling toys. Big bladders blown into bubbles made to look like colored bombs.

The actual crowds strolled up and down the highway. Signs blazed from countless restaurants and tango palaces. The newsboys yelled war headlines from the "Waxtras." And all was as it had been for months past.

We had grown used to hearing stories of the war. They had lost much, if not most, of their earlier horror. And notwithstanding all that we had heard and read, there were still many in our midst who dreamt of peace, as if there were no war abroad.

It was to throw the fear of God into the hearts of those who would or could not understand the need of national preparedness that the management of the Vitagraph Theatre produced "The Battle Cry of Peace" last night.

To treat it as a moving picture play in the accustomed way would be to slight the deep meaning and intent of the event. There have been other film productions quite as good as this, viewed as mere drama.

But this new venture of the Vitagraph is more than that—a call to arms, a clear, national appeal, a prayer for help against those dull, blind fools who see but cannot read or understand the words of warning on the wall.

As a prelude to the play itself—which was sketched out by Stuart Blackton and made into pictures by his associate, Wilfrid North—Captain Jack Crawford, known to many as the "Poet Scout," gave a brief lecture on the perils of unpreparedness in time of war. By word and film, the management, in passing, also paid grateful tribute to Hudson Maxim, whose book, "Defenseless America," inspired the production.

The play proper at first showed only peaceful scenes—good citizens at home, who loved and lived on in their usual way, reading of tragedies and holocausts in Europe, but quite unable to believe that all these horrors could be brought to their own roofs some day.

Into the early peace came painful rumors. A foreign land (not specified) picks a quarrel with the country. The friends of peace prevent the powers that be from enrolling the armies and mobilizing the fleets of the United States to meet the fast increasing threat of war.

Then, like a bolt out of the blue, comes the Awakening. An armada of resistless force arrives, lands armies, and in an hour of two works havoc and wakes hell here in New York. We look on in amazement and in terror as we watch the great mortars smashing our skyscrapers to bits and slaughtering harmless men and women in the streets.

Wild panic reigns from end to end of Broadway, as the alarm bells ring and autos flee by thousands.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. ## NEW TURN TAKEN IN POLICE WAR

Ruling of Judge Against Indianapolis Officers Only Adds to Political Squabble.

GLENNS ARE MAIN FIGURES

Another Chapter Added When Alleged Pool Rooms Were Raided by Constables.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—The war of the republican officials of Marion county against the Indianapolis democratic city administration has taken a new turn in which Circuit Judge Ewbanks has declared that the police are guilty of persecuting and ruining the business of the Glenn brothers, owners of a pool room, a cafe and bar. The court issued a temporary injunction keeping the police off the premises of the Glenn brothers' pool room.

The affidavits against the police were prepared in the office of Joseph R. Roach, the attorney who assisted Prosecutor Rucker in his unsuccessful prosecution of Mayor Bell for alleged election frauds.

The Glenns alleged that the police visited the pool room many times each day warning customers away and that the whole affair was a plot to ruin their business. The court agreed with this view.

The peculiar feature of the case is that Michael Glenn was a member of the force of city detectives in good standing until shortly before the Bell trial, when he asked and obtained a "vacation" of several months. During the Bell trial Mike Glenn testified for Bell and his testimony tended to discredit certain of Prosecutor Rucker's efforts. Now Rucker is helping Glenn against Bell's chief of police, S. V. Perrott. Indianapolis people realize that there is an untold chapter that accounts for this shift of forces, but they can't guess what that chapter is.

Another recent development was the raid on several bookkeepers who with their customers were following the races over leased wires. The raid was conducted by a justice of the peace on affidavits prepared by the prosecutor and tended to embarrass the police force by an exposure of gambling during the Bell administration.

It's a merry war that won't end until, either the democrats or republicans have both city and county offices.

IT WAS NOT PLEASURE TRIP

Martinsville High School Team Said It Was Business Proposition.

(By United Press.) Martinsville, Ind., March 28.—A fierce high school feud is raging because—

Jugs of water were carried from Martinsville by the basket ball boys to Bloomington in the recent state basketball tournament.

Martinsville boys rented a house to live in during their stay instead of accepting the hospitality of the fraternity men of the University.

The local players decided they did not care for the Bloomington water which the Bloomington students themselves "slandered," they went prepared. Since their independence in renting quarters has been noted, they explain that they went to Bloomington for business rather than pleasure, as was shown by their work there.

House Judiciary Committee Postponed Action on Measure by a Vote of 10 to 9.

PROHIBITION ALSO HELD UP

Washington, March 29.—Consideration of every proposed constitutional amendment introduced in the house this session, including those for woman suffrage and prohibition and nineteen others of a minor character, was postponed indefinitely yesterday afternoon by the judiciary committee by a vote of 10 to 9.

Suffrage leaders, who vainly sought to have their proposal voted on separately, declared that they would continue their fight until the end of the session if necessary. They maintained that they controlled enough votes in the committee today to insure victory if the other questions had not been included in the motion. If possible, they will bring the issue to a vote again when the committee meets Thursday.

Little hope for a favorable report from the present committee is entertained, however, by the members who favor woman suffrage. Chairman Webb is opposed to the amendment and today he recognized Representative Carlin of Virginia to make the postponement motion while Representatives Nelson of Wisconsin and Moss of West Virginia clamored for the floor.

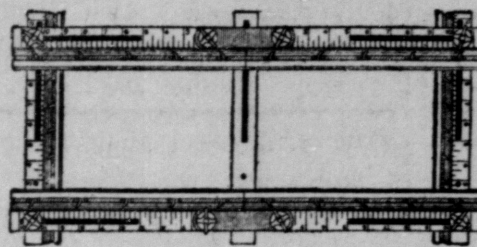

Prohibition leaders have made no announcement as to their future plans. None of them appeared at the committee today, and it is considered doubtful if their proposal will be resurrected for any other purpose than to block a separate suffrage vote.

But, then, three good meals a day are better than hardtack and bullets.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antiseptis, to ward off the danger of infection.

Owing to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of persons wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germs which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the following druggists:

QUALITY COUNTS

more in painting than almost anything else about a building. Cheap paint and cheap labor mean a cracking and a scaling surface in a short time, that costs very much more to repaint than it ought. Cheap painting means inadequate protection against the weather. Can you afford to lessen the life of your building by seeking cheapness as the main thing? When we do the painting we use the best materials; employ competent labor and PAINT TO STAY PAINTED. It costs only a little more; but there's a reason.

A WRECK BABY

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., March 29.—Physicians reported Mrs. Mary Maiston of Indianapolis one of the passengers who escaped unharmed in the Amherst wreck gave birth to a child in one of the day coaches immediately after the wreck.

(By United Press.)

Cleveland, O., March 29.—Three crack New York Central trains, one of them the Twentieth Century Limited, crashed together in a thick fog one mile west of Amherst, Ohio today. At least twenty-seven persons were killed outright and 43 persons injured some of them fatally.

A sleepy tower man is to blame for the Amherst wreck, A. M. Ingals decided late today. Ingals said the tower man's wife gave birth to a child Sunday night and that the tower man had been without sleep most of the time since then.

Indiana people among the dead are:

Charles Nelson, 30, Indianapolis.
George Ojonta, Indianapolis.
Raissin Obbah, Indianapolis.
Malinea Bemol, Indiana Harbor
Among the injured were L. A. Griffin, Elkhart, Ind., bruised and suffering from shock; Adolph Lawrence, Gary, Ind.

A tally made by undertakers and newspaper men at the scene showed that twenty-one bodies, thirteen of them identified, have been taken from the debris.

Railroad officials insisted four hours after the wreck that only fifteen bodies had been removed.

Twenty-three bodies are in the morgue at Amherst, two at Loraine and two at Elyria.

When the Twentieth Century Limited, the fastest train in the world, smashed into the wreckage east upon its tracks, the debris was thrown hundreds of feet. Engineer Herbert Hess of the second section said this afternoon that his train was going fifty miles an hour when it struck the first section. He said the two block signals which he passed prior to the wreck were "clear." The second section was going about two miles behind the first section.

Twenty coaches and baggage cars were overturned and splintered. All of the coaches were steel. Two of the great engines turned over. The boiler of the second section engine and the water quenched a fire that started in the telescoped day coach of the first section. Two coaches were crumpled into junk. Only three remained on the track. Both sections of No. 86 were bound Chicago to Pittsburgh.

The crumpled day coach of the first section of No. 86 was the death car. Survivors told harrowing

Road Heads Explains How It Happened

(By United Press.)

New York, March 29.—The New York Central offices this afternoon issued a statement with the following explanation of the Amherst wreck:

"Reports indicate that the engineer of the first section of train No. 86 received a caution signal. He proceeded under caution to the home signal and stopped his train. A flagman started back immediately but before he reached the proper distance the second section of No. 86 came along with the engine working steam. It appears that the engineer of the second section No. 86 disregarded signals. The engine of No. 86 ran into the steel coach of the rear of the first section of No. 86 and all the injuries and fatalities were confined to the passengers in this coach with the exception of the porter and mail clerk which were in the mail car immediately ahead.

stories of suffering. Frank Provost, New York salesman, told of hearing cries, groans and screams and of one man praying aloud. Legs and arms of victims were picked up and carried about, he said.

Parts of the bodies of a man and women were found on the pilot of the engine of the second section.

W. C. Braley of Pittsburgh said:

"A more hideous wreck can scarcely be imagined. Up above the engine of the second division mixed with the wreckage were the mangled bodies of dead and injured, for the most part unclothed."

Another survivor told of seeing a man pick up a leg and another man approaching carrying a bundle of arms and legs done up in a sheet and asking what he should do with it.

All of the dead and injured were passengers of the first section of eastbound train No. 86. If the coaches had not been all steel the loss of life would have been much greater, New York Central officials said.

According to stories told by passengers, the first section of No. 86 eastbound, had just slowed up ready to stop when a block signal was thrown against it one mile west of Amherst. The second section of No. 86, bound from Detroit to Pittsburgh dashed into the rear of the first section less than two minutes later.

Brakemen had been sent back with a lantern to warn the second section. Passengers said the fog probably prevented the engineer of the trailer seeing the warning light.

The second section crashed clear through a buffet car and a day coach on the first section, throwing the wreckage on the next track. In less than a minute the Twentieth Century Limited, running sixty miles an hour, hit the wreckage.

The Twentieth Century was derailed, the engine ploughing through three hundred yards of track, but no passengers on the Century were hurt.

Most of the dead and injured were rushed to Memorial hospital at Elyria, five miles from the wreck, at 6:30 a. m.

ARE IMPRESSED BY NEW PROCESS

Good Roads Advocates From Here
See Glutrin Tested With
Seventeen Other Materials

DECLARE IT SHOWS UP WELL

Larger Party Will Leave Thursday Night For Detroit to See Some Concrete Roads.

The county commissioners were resting today getting ready for their trip tomorrow to Detroit. The commissioners and the party that visited in Columbus, Ohio, yesterday returned last night. The party will leave Indianapolis Thursday night at nine o'clock for Detroit and will return some time Saturday. While in Detroit they will inspect several concrete roads. At present there are three petitions for concrete roads pending before the commissioners.

The commissioners were favorably impressed with the roads they saw yesterday in Columbus that had been prepared with the glutrin process. On account of weather conditions they were unable to view any country roads but saw plenty of the glutrin prepared highways in the city where the traffic is the heaviest. One of these streets had been in for seven years and apparently showed no wear. The commissioners are considering a proposition to repair the road east of the city from the end of the brick street past the poor farm with this process.

One exhibition that especially impressed the local good road advocates at Columbus yesterday was a road just outside of the city composed of eighteen road building materials. This, according to a member of the board of commissioners, revealed the worth of glutrin.

For the purpose of comparing the various materials, the authorities had such a road built and asked all of the companies making road materials to build a short section of the road as a sample. A member of the board said that glutrin had stood the test for seven years where other materials had worn out.

It was stated by a member of the party that the section built of concrete had crumbled and was little better than any road at all. The macadam section was a mudhole. One section adjoining the glutrin, the composition of which was not ascertained, had worn down about six inches below the level of the glutrin, one of the commissioners said.

The trip to Columbus did not create very favorable impressions on the members of the board regarding concrete as a permanent road. But they had promised to go to Detroit to view some concrete roads there. The commissioners have heard that concrete has not given satisfaction many places.

There are three petitions for concrete highways in the county. One is for the New Salem pike south of the city, another is for Eleventh street east of Main and extending to the Thomas J. Humes farm and the third is for a road in Center township. There is a remonstrance against the last named petition. The viewers on the New Salem pike and Eleventh street petitions may report favorably on brick instead of concrete. Brick costs very little more than concrete, it is stated.

In the party going to Detroit will be members of the board of commissioners, County Surveyor Cameron, the viewers on the Eleventh street and New Salem pike petitions, E. O. Humes and Walter and Albert Capp.

SHEEP KILLING DOGS ARE SCARCE

Reports of Township Trustees Reveal County Is $1,773.30 Better Off Financially

THAT SUM MADE ON DOG FUND

Rushville Township Leads Having Paid Out $70.80 For Ravages
of Dogs During Year

Sheep killing dogs almost disappeared from Rush county during the year ending March 1. The reports of the township trustees have all been filed. They show that due to the small amount of live stock killed by dogs the county is better off financially in the sum of $1,773.30.

The trustees are compelled under the law to pay for all losses of live stock from stray dogs out of the dog fund and at the same time are compelled to have a balance on hand at the start of the year, March 1, of $100. This resulted in every township in the county and it was not necessary for a single trustee to draw on the county treasurer in order to make up a shortage.

The showing this year is in direct contrast with other years. In 1915 a large amount of live stock was killed and one township—Anderson—was short the sum of $32 in the dog fund. The total amount the county received in 1915 from dog tax was $785.35. The amount paid out for live stock killed varies year after year. In 1914 the county received the sum of $1,479. The largest sum the county has received in a period of six years with the exception of this year was $1,606.70 in 1911.

The money going into the dog fund comes from the tax collected on dogs. The following townships did not expend anything for losses: Ripley, Posey, Walker, Union. Center township lost one hog by the dog route and the trustee settled for the sum of $7.

The dogs in Rushville township had a liking for sheep and chickens. The sum of $46 was paid for sheep and $19 for chickens. The total expended in this township was $70.80. Rushville township paid out more than any other township and also took in more money. A total of $413.90 was collected in dog tax.

In Anderson township, the township that was short last year, $263 was collected in the dog fund and $88 was paid out. Washington township lost 11 head of sheep and Orange township paid out $33 for sheep and hogs.

DELEGATES ARE BEING BESIEGED

Those Going to Republican Convention Hear From First One Candidate and Then Another.

REPRESENTATIVES SENT HERE

District Delegation Will Nominate
Delegates to National Convention Opening Night.

The delegates that are to represent Rush county in the Republican state convention which will be held in Indianapolis Wednesday and Thursday of next week, April 5 and 6, are being besieged almost every day by representatives of some candidates seeking nominations on the Republican state ticket.

The races for every state office alert. They have their agents going all over the state interviewing the delegates and presenting their claims to the nomination which they seek.

If candidates or their representatives can not see all of the delegates, they call by telephone, as has been the case in many instances in Rush county. Some delegates, of course, live on rural routes and can not be reached by rail.

The state convention will require the presence of the delegates both days because there will be something of importance going on from the opening to the close of the convention. On the evening of April 5 the delegates will meet in district gatherings for the purpose of selecting delegates to the national convention, nominating candidates for the presidential electors and various state convention committees.

The primary changed the order of things this year. Heretofore the presidential electors and delegates to the national convention have been selected at the district convention when the candidate for congress was nominated. The meeting of the district delegates will likely be held in the state house. Other counties in the district will make it a point to have a full delegation present at the meeting, and it is expected that Rush will also.

The Republicans of the district will likely send Richard Elliott of Connersville and Tom Milligan of Newcastle to the national convention because they were recommended by the district committee at its organization meeting.

Although the senatorial nominations at one time threatened to overshadow all others, there is no doubt now but that they will be very mild and that the contests will hold more interest. It is practically agreed among Republicans Harry S. New will be chosen for the long term nomination to run against John W. Kern and James E. Watson of this city for the short term to contest with the Democratic convention nominee for the vacancy caused by the death of B. F. Shively.

WILL HOLD A CONFERENCE

Trustees Will Hear J. M. Wilson of
Knightstown Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the township trustees, scheduled for next Monday afternoon will be held Tuesday instead in order that J. M. Wilson of Knightstown, a member of the legislative committee of the state association can attend. Mr. Wilson will address the trustees, but the meeting is to be in the nature of a conference.

JOHN RUPE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

Richmond Man, Mentioned as Opponent of Watson, Says he is Not Seeking Nomination

IT IS A SURPRISE TO HIM

However, Has no Objection to Wayne County Delegates Presents Name if They Desire

Although John E. Rupe may have been mentioned in Richmond as a candidate for the short term nomination for United States senator at the Republican state convention next week, he is in no sense a candidate. Here are his own words for it, reprinted from the Richmond Palladium of yesterday.

"The announcement that Wayne county delegates are considering the presentation of my name for the Republican nomination as United States senator is a surprise to me," Mr. Rupe said today. "I am not in any sense a candidate for this or any other nomination but I have no objection to having my name presented to the convention if the Wayne county delegates decide to do so."

The Palladium, which can hardly be credited with exact veracity when reference is made to James E. Watson because of its antagonism to him, is sole authority for the statement that Rupe is being mentioned as an opponent of James E. Watson, since the latter is conceded to be the one to whom the nomination for the Shively seat in the senate should go. The Richmond Item, a wide awake newspaper, made no mention of Rupe's alleged candidacy. The boom apparently had not penetrated beyond the Richmond Palladium office.

Rupe says that he is not in any sense a candidate, so it is not likely that he will be seriously considered by the convention. Sentiment seems to have crystallized in favor of Watson for the short term. Delegations from counties which he did carry in the primary are reported to be for him.

The Palladium says that Nimrod Johnson of Richmond, delegate from the fifth ward, declared that a meeting of state delegates would be arranged for Thursday or Friday to consider ways and means for presenting the name of Rupe to the convention. Rupe is an attorney, ex-president of the Indiana Bar association and past grand commander of the Knights Templars of Indiana. Men here who are acquainted with him say that he has never taken a very active part in state politics.

The Veiled Woman

She will be easily recognized this season, for veils are the thing. Everyone is wearing them and never were there veils of such wondrous texture and beautiful design.

The cost of some of them run into figures that mere man would probably count extravagant—but no woman would.

The news of the new veiling is given from time to time in the advertising of The Daily Republican.

But then the advertising columns are the place one expects to find such interesting information.

BIG SLAUGHTER IS PREDICTED

Experts in Touch With War Forecast That Fighting in Next 5 Months Will be Great.

BOTH SIDES GETTING READY

Battle's Will Likely be Attended by Worst Bloodshed in History of the World.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
London, March 15.—(By Mail)—Men who have been in closest touch with every move of the world war to date are beginning to forecast that the next five months will bring an unparalleled burst of battle, attended by the worst bloodshed in the world's history.

The immense waste of human life and materials before Verdun, greater than that which shocked the world at Liege and Namur, has demonstrated, the experts say, that if this war goes on to the bitter end, no phase of history, ancient, medieval or modern, will compare with the slaughter. One military critic said today:

"The almost impregnable character of the defenses on the Western front, which have been building for eighteen months, make it suicide for the first line of any assaulting body of troops. When a commander orders a battalion to the assault and posts the reserves in the rear ready to follow, he knows that the people attacked will be captured by the reserves, if captured at all.

"He cannot help but know in advance that the first line will melt away before the fire of the opposing side. Before the reserves reach their objective over the bodies of their comrades, they too, may have been decimated by the machine gun, rifle and cannon fire which protects the trenches on every mile of the front that runs from the North Sea to Switzerland.

"No one can blame the commanders for the course they are bound to take. It is war. The men, too, are not unwilling to make the sacrifice. Those in the front ranks know that their chance is slim. The best they can ask for is a wound from which they will ultimately recover. Months of monotonous trench warfare are responsible for this. The men are willing and ready for anything that means a diversion from the stalemate of the past year and a half.

"What will happen on the Western front will be repeated on the Eastern, where both the Russians and Germans have been working feverishly for months entrenching, fortifying, constructing wire entanglements and placing heavy ordnance pieces sufficient to sweep the ground for miles around."

At Salonica, where the Allies hurriedly dug themselves in and have gradually fortified their holdings to almost impregnability, the cost of taking the Greek port for the Central Powers would far exceed its military worth.

Throughout all the theatres, the coming spring will see the greatest activity of the war, attended by the slaughter which conditions make inevitable, the military experts are saying.

Nor will the slaughter be limited to soldiers, some forecasts declare. It is believed in some circles that Zeppelins will take heavy toll of civilian populations in many quarters. Reports from Friedrichshafen, on Lake Constance, say that the Zeppelin factory there is turning out twelve or sixteen Zeppelins a month. The German Parseval and Schultze-Lange factories, located elsewhere, also are reported active to an extent of ten times their normal output.

This great monthly addition to the German aerial fleet, the experts are inclined to think, must forecast hitherto unexampled air raiding everywhere. The question of the air defense of London is being debated in Parliament and with the appointment of Lord Derby as Air Minister, the public is beginning to have confidence in the ability of the aerial defenders to deal with the Zeppelin menace. Steps in the right direction have been taken in many places. The renewed activity of the Ger-

FILTH MEANS FLIES.

Flies love to feast on filth and then get into the house and wipe their feet on your cake or on baby's bottle. Screen your house.
It is true they are nature's scavengers, but they spread filth and disease in doing their work, and, besides, it is better to be your own scavenger by keeping clean than to have the flies do it for you, for not only is the fly a dangerous companion, but clean people are beginning to suspect that those who have flies about them are dirty housekeepers.
If therefore you wish to bear a reputation for cleanliness in your neighborhood be sure that your trash and manure heaps are frequently removed and that your house is properly screened.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE— DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF, ACHING JOINTS

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" right on the "tender spot" and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 25 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

A Natural Course.

The Indiana Forum is a weekly democratic paper established six months ago at Indianapolis to represent the anti-machine element of the party in Indiana. In its issue of last Saturday the Forum comments on the appointment of Tom Taggart as senator and asks the question whether Governor Ralston could have picked another person who would be such a complete outrage to the real democracy and respectable citizenship in Indiana?

The Forum is of course making an up-hill fight but it is not without intelligent and sympathetic followers and it goes on from week to week zealously contending for cleaner politics in its party. Of the Taggart appointment the Forum says:

"Governor Samuel Ralston this week made his one bid for fame by appointing Thomas Taggart to the United States senate to fill the vacancy made by the death of Benjamin F. Shively. The genial Tom who some thirty odd years ago was the proprietor of the railroad eating house in Indianapolis now dons a toga and takes his place in the senate—a body supposed to be representative of the best ability, the highest ideals and the purest patriotism in the country.

"Mr. Ralston behaved very properly when the time came. He didn't hesitate. He didn't trust the message to the United States mails but delivered it into the hands of one of the faithful who carried it to the citadel in the Denison house where Tom was waiting.

"No good democrat will abuse the governor for his appointment. He had no choice in the matter. He was a victim of the order that produced him. Thus again is a well meaning governor and a very likable man made to bear the brunt of criticism for the short-sighted policies of his friends.

"Taggart in the senate! We shall now see what effect Pluto water and Terre Haute beer has on international diplomacy."

It is more than a year since it was complained that most of the shells fired by the English and French came from the United States but the British estimate that even now only 8 percent of their shells are American and the French report that they have as yet used no American shells at all but expect to use them as soon as they can get them.

Mexico, however, will not be a Belgium this trip.

It seems, though, to be something of a springless spring.

War's inveterate enemy is a good Sunday dinner.

General Pershing, too, is crowding the first page.

The armies of two nations chasing only one bandit!

Pure water, you know, is an aid to digestion. Fill 'er up again!

Oh, yes, the world will speak well of you—if you deserve it.

And here's wishing you another summer of munificent prosperity.

A bright smile is a golden asset in business. Try it yourself.

We seem, too, to have heard of one Colonel Dodd.

Shrewd old boy, Funston. He just passed the buck to Pershing.

A Rushville Interview

Mr. Priest Tells His Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Rushville man over five years ago, and its sequel, will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Geo. Priest, 223 W. Third street, Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for years. It came on me gradually and each day I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended for such ailments and I got a box to be the best medicine of the kind I had ever used. In a short time they freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 28, 1915, Mr. Priest said: "Whenever my kidneys bother me, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give me good results. My former endorsement still holds good."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Priest has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advertisement.)

HUNDRED LEAD- ING HOOSIERS

Joseph G. Marshall (24)

Of Joseph G. Marshall, it is said Indiana never produced his equal in breadth and strength of intellect. Among the members of the bar, he was called the "Sleeping Lion," and when once aroused, he could stir the passion and sway the feelings of people as no other lawyer. He was born in Kentucky, the son of a Presbyterian minister; was graduated from Transylvania University, in 1823, and settled in Madison, the home of many famous lawyers. Marshall's ability placed him in the front rank, and in 1830 was elected Probate Judge. He was twice prevented from going to the United States senate—1844 and 1850. The Whigs and Anti-Nebraska parties had a majority, but the democrats refused to sit in the election. In 1846, Marshall was the Whig nominee for governor, but was defeated by James Whitcomb. In 1849 he declined the appointment as governor of Oregon territory, tendered by President Taylor. Marshall was the bitter political opponent of Jesse P. Bright, and these two giants had many spirited encounters. In 1852 they went to Louisville to fight a duel, but due to the influence of friends, it was called off.

Jesse D. Bright (con) (23)

Jesse D. Bright served sixteen years in the United States senate. He never attained high rank as a debater, but his personal qualities made him the idol of the democrats, and upon the death of Vice-President King, Bright was elected President pro-tempore of the senate. He refused to assign Chase, Sumner, and Hale to places on committees due to their anti-slavery views. In 1857 President Buchanan offered Senator Bright a cabinet position, secretary of state, but he declined. In July, 1861 he was expelled from the senate on the charge of treason for writing a letter to Jefferson Davis recommending its bearer with an improved fire-arm. Upon returning to Indiana, he allied himself with the Breckenridge democrats and was defeated by the Douglas faction. Thus disappointed, he removed to Kentucky, served two terms in the legislature and was mentioned as the democratic choice for United States senator, but declined to make the race. He moved to Baltimore in 1874, died the following year and was buried there.

LONTZ STILL A DEMOCRAT

Defeated Candidate For Congress Will Support Ticket

When the story came from Richmond that John M. Lontz, who was defeated for the Democratic nomination for congress, was "sore," because he was "knifed" in the primary and would be a "free lance" Democrat henceforth, the Shelbyville Democrat wrote Lontz, who is touring the south, to find if what his Richmond friends had said were true. Lontz has just replied with a telegram that the state and national administrations deserved approval and that he would cast his vote for the Democratic party next November.

NEW YORKER WILL SPEAK

Henry D. Estabrook to Address Republican State Convention

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—Henry D. Estabrook of New York, who is numbered among the most powerful Republican orators of the country, yesterday accepted an invitation to address the Republican state convention in Indianapolis on the afternoon of April 5. Mr. Estabrook has long been a practicing attorney in New York and has been looked on by some of his friends as a presidential possibility. In this connection it is noted that with the coming of Mr. Estabrook to Indiana, practically every Republican who is mentioned as a possible presidential nominee has made a speech in this state. J. W. Fessler, who was announced as the temporary chairman, has announced he can not accept because of the death of his law partner, J. B. Elam.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Cora D. Baker was born Jan. 22 1880 in Shelby Co., Ind., being a daughter of Warren and Sytha Ann Levi.

She was united in marriage to Geo. H. Baker Aug. 1, 1907.

During the ministry of J. H. McNeill she became a member of the Main St. Christian Church and here her membership remained until promoted, we trust, to the church triumphant.

Mrs. Baker was a member of Dr. C. H. Gilbert's Bible Class and was the recipient of kindly ministrations at the hands of the other members of that class during her sickness.

Five months ago she became afflicted with Bright's disease with heart complications and during all this period though suffering was off times intense she was patient bearing with Christian grace her heavy affliction.

As the darkness of the night of death slowly gathered she became conscious that the end was near and with Christian fortitude began to lay her plans and make what arrangements were essential for her burial as she bravely and faithfully trusted God to care for her soul, going to meet Him not cringing and in fear but bravely and in faith.

Her loved ones say that she was a kind and indulgent mother a devoted wife and a true friend and neighbor.

She is survived by her husband, two sons Clelland and Wallace, a daughter Dorothy dying in infancy, and by one sister Rosa Levi and two brothers, Arthur and Albert Levi. 1411

Mrs. Joe Cowing, who was operated on recently at the Sexton sanatorium, will return to her home tomorrow.

Democratic Rebels Who Refused to Restore Duty on Sugar Reveal Point of Attack

WOULD CUT OFF REVENUE

Thus Will They Hamstring The Administration by Refusing to
Make up Treasury Deficit

Washington, March 29.—The
thirteen Democrats in the House of Representatives who refused to vote
for the restoration of the duties on sugar have revealed the point of
attack which Democratic rebels will make upon the Wilson programme
of legislation this winter. They will attempt to hamstring the administration by refusing to provide the revenue which will be required to meet the Democratic deficit in the Treasury and to pay for the military preparedness which the White House
will urge.

In this, it is believed, they will find a good many coadjutors in Democratic ranks. Indeed, it is now whispered here, the advice
which Bryan gave his men when the McLemore resolution was under consideration was to save all their strength for the supreme test of the
taxation scheme which the administration will be compelled to present.
The number of those who will be
amenable to this advice is variously reckoned as from forty to seventy—
but at any rate it is sufficient to cause a good deal of worryment to
the party chieftains.

The sugar bill was by far the
least objectionable of all the measures which will come under the head
of revenue legislation. It contained provisions to which the Democrats
have voted adherence in every tariff
revision until the last one, yet a sufficient number of Democrats refused to support it to have destroyed the party control of the House
if the vote had proceeded along party lines. As it was, however, the Republicans could and did vote
with eagerness for this piece of Republican policy endorsed by a Democratic committee and the bill easily
passed.

The forthcoming revenue bills will
not be of this nature, however, and
the Republicans will be justified in withholding their endorsement unless their views are considered in framing the legislation. It has already been demonstrated that the Democrats cannot accomplish anything of their own strength and the control of the capital legislation of
the session has passed into the hands of the Republicans.

Judge Held They Were Responsible
For Neglect of Children.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., March 28.—If
a father smokes enough cigarettes
he can be found guilty in Marion county of neglecting his children.
Judge Frank J. Labr in juvenile court served notice that smoking
cigarettes, if carried to extreme,
constitutes a violation of the child
neglect statute.

Earl Crail testified he had smoked
thirty cigarettes a day for fifteen years. "You are guilty, as charged
of neglecting your children," said
the judge without more ado.

Statisticians estimated that Crail
had smoked about 164,250 cigarettes at a cost of $1,000.

Amusements

The Princess will show the third
chapter of "The Strange Case of Mary Page," for the first picture
tonight. The court room scene is continued and is very realistic. The
second picture is a railroad drama
"The Haunted Station," Helen Gibson is featured. The last is a comedy entitled "Insomnia." Billy Reeves is featured. Tomorrow with
matinees at 1:30 o'clock and 3:45
o'clock and evening at 6:45 and 9:15 the big spectacular feature,
"The Battle Cry of Peace" will be shown. The picture is timely because of the lesson in preparedness
it teaches. The scenes are wonderful. Tickets for the night shows are on sale at Fox Brothers drug store.

The Mystic will show a three act
drama "Nan O' The Backwoods"
for the first picture tonight. It is said to be a fine production. The other is a one act drama entitled
"The Shadow of Fear." Tomorrow
the three act drama "The Reaping"
will be shown.

The Gem offers a four reel program tonight. The first is a two act society drama "The Tragic Circle." Harold Lockwood and May Allison are featured. The last two are comedies "Keeping up with the Joneses" and "Seeing America
First." Tomorrow matinee and night
the five act feature, "The Man from Oregon" will be shown. Clara Williams and Howard Hickman are featured.

STORY OF WELL

L. J. Stiner Talks of The Speedy Relief He Received Through
Tanlac

Anderson, Ind., March 29.—Levi
J. Stiner, a well known employe of
the Hill Standard Manufacturing
Co., who lives at 2130 Park avenue,
Anderson, recently said regarding his experiences with Tanlac, the Master Medicine:

"Stomach trouble caused me great annoyance and trouble for a long time. My food would not digest
properly causing constipation of the worst kind. My kidneys, also, were irregular. I felt badly all through the day and was unable to sleep
with any degree of satisfaction at night.

"I began improving almost from the first few doses of Tanlac. I
have been taking the medicine a short time now, and I feel like a different man. My appetite has improved, gas has disappeared from
my stomach, and I sleep through the
night as peacefully as a child."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine,
which made a new man of Mr. Stiner, is being taken with equally beneficial results by thousands of Indiana people. Tanlac is excellent for stomach, liver and kidney
troubles, loss of appetite, insomnia,
coughs, colds, catarrhal complaints
and is a general tonic and system
purifier.

Tanlac is sold exclusively in
Rushville, at F. E. WOLCOTT'S

Social Calendar Thursday

- Social Dozen, with Mrs. Will G. Smith in North Main street, in the afternoon.
- Knights of Pythias dance, in the hall beginning at 8:30 p. m.
- Ladies Aid society of the Catholic church, with Mrs. Frank Abercrombie of West Fourth street, assisted of Mrs. Jacob Schantz.
- Grand Club, with Mrs. A. L. Riggs at 538 North Perkins street in the afternoon.

Several theatre parties are forming to attend the matinees and evening performances of "The Battle Cry of Peace" which will be shown at the Princess tomorrow.

LOTUS CLUB

The members of the Lotus Club spent a delightful evening together on Monday when they were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Sexton at their home in North Main street. With cards and conversation, the affair was a pleasant one. Light refreshments were served. Mrs. D. C. Green, of Salt Lake City was among the players.

Among those from this city who saw, "The Birth of a Nation" in Connorsville yesterday were Mrs. Douglas Morris, Mrs. Pearson, Dr. and Mrs. H. V. Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Offutt, Miss Margaret Kelly, Leo King, John Schrichte, Tom Hornal, Will Fitzgerald, Miss May Gray, Dr. and Mrs. Osborn, of Glenwood, Mr. and Mrs. John Linville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beaver, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hinchman, and Vincent Gray.

SEWING PARTIES

Great interest has been shown in the preparations for the Easter bazaar to be held by the Imaenlatta Sodality. Each week sewing parties are being held to complete articles for the bazaar. Last evening, the divisions met with Miss Salome Schrichte, Miss Ruth Cough and the Misses Beatrice and Marie McNamara, when groups of girls gathered with their fancy work and spent a social evening together.

WITH MRS. CROSS

With the members of her card club as guests, Mrs. Clarence Cross entertained with a pretty little bridge this afternoon. This meeting equaled the previous ones in social delight for the guests who enjoyed several interesting games. An elaborate and delicious luncheon was served by the hostess at the close of the games. Mrs. D. C. Green of Salt Lake City was among the charming group of guests that gathered about the card tables.

LADIES AID SOCIETY

Over fifty members of the Ladies Aid society of the St. Paul's M. E. church were present at the meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Will Mulno when she was assisted by

Bowling—that's the thing! With the same vigor that the enthusiasts learned the new dances, and lovers of athletics hied to the ice when the season was on, have plans been laid for the bowling clubs, the organization of most of them being under way. The installation of the new alleys has served as an impetus for congenial crowds to group together in order that social pleasure may be enjoyed along with the popular athletic pastime. Some have been organized with memories of similar organizations in former days, while other clubs are to make their initial attempts in bowling. They are of all ages and all sizes, varying from six couples to twice that number. Each, however, has been organized with the same purpose to supplement the lessons in becoming skillful in the art of bowling with an evening of fun and jollity, at each of the semi-monthly meetings.

Mrs. Link Guffin and Mrs. Richard Abernathy. Mrs. Watson, as president, presided over the business meetings. Mrs. George Wiltse was taken in as a new member of the society. During a pleasant social time after the business meeting, a light luncheon was served by the hostesses.

DINNER PARTY

Aaron-Ward roses, the sorority flower, were used in the decorations at the dinner party given last night at the home of Miss Alma Green by the first division of Psi Iota Xi for the entire sorority. Candles, in the sorority colors, were placed about the table and from them a soft light was cast about the room. Seventeen guests were present to enjoy the two-course dinner which was served and participate in the pleasantly social evening, of music and chat which followed. In the party were Mrs. George Dehority, of Elwood, and Miss Lucile Jinn, the new pledge of the sorority.

CLASS MEETING

The members of the Watson class of the M. E. Sunday school were entertained by Mrs. Homer Havens at her home last evening. A large attendance was present to participate in the business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. George Aultman and enjoy the social good time which followed. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses who included the members of the third division, Mrs. Grant Gregg, Miss Sue Gregg, Mrs. Guy Gordon, Mrs. William Gordon, Mrs. Link Guffin, Mrs. Lon Havens, Mrs. Charles Hugo, Mrs. Raymond Hargrove, Mrs. Sam Innis, and Miss Libbie Hackleman.

INVITATION

The many club women in Rush county will be interested in the following invitation which appeared in the Indianapolis Star:

All Indiana club women are cordially invited to attend the opening of the great Columbian Highway at Portland, Ore., and are promised all the roses they want on that occasion. A pleasant letter has come, signed "Lillie G. Harrington, Ella Huston and Mary E. Miller," and I am asked to extend this invitation all over the state. Mrs. Huston is the wife of the president of the Indiana Society of Portland, at whose house a reception was given delegates to the council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mitchell's orchestra of this city will play for the dance to be given by the Cosmopolitan Club of Anderson this evening and for a dance in Newcastle on Friday evening.

HALL-MCBRIDE

Miss Luvu Hall and Gail McBride were quietly married Monday by the Rev. C. M. Yeum at the parsonage. The young couple is from Mays, where they will make their future home. After the ceremony, they left for a short wedding trip to Indianapolis.

The hosts for the Knights of Pythias dance to be given in the hall tomorrow evening are busy already in decorating for the affair and carrying out the plans which will make it probably the most elaborate dance of the year. From indications one of the largest crowds will be in attendance that has yet been present at one of their delightful affairs. Mitchell's three-piece orchestra will play for the dance.

MRS. WEIR AS HOSTESS

Another of the semi-monthly meetings of the R. M. C. Club, of New Salem was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Ella Weir at her pretty home there. Crocheting and embroidery work, which amused the ladies during the afternoon, made the hours short ones. Potted plants were tastefully used in the floral decorations for the affair. A dainty refection, served by the hostess, brought the meeting to a close. Aside from the club members, the guests were Mrs. Amanda McKee, Mrs. Luella Stewart and daughter, Ruby, and Mrs. Will Matney of Laurel. The next meeting of the club will be with Miss Beulah Murphy.

NEW OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were elected at the meeting of the Ladies Aid society of the United Presbyterian church which was held yesterday with Mrs. George Puntenev, at her home in West Third street. Mrs. Puntenev was elected to fill the presidency, in the place of Mrs. T. M. Green, who is the outgoing president. Mrs. Edwards is vice-president for the coming year, and Miss Anna Mary Cowan is secretary-treasurer. Other matters of business were discussed in the short business session which was followed by a charming social hour during which time the ladies chatted, sewed and were served to dainty refreshments.

NOVELTY DANCE

Feature dances of all kinds carried out the name given the dance in the Elks hall last evening, which was a "Novelty Dance," and to necessitated a jolly time for all of the guests, by the original plans that had been laid for it. Being a leap year affair several of the dances were ladies choices, while in the majority of them partners were chosen in novel ways. In the "Post-Office" dance, letters were passed out to the ladies who danced with the gentleman to whom the letter was written; in another cards were matched for partners; in one, corresponding numbers found the partners; the ladies chose their company in another by selecting them from their shoes which stuck from beneath a black curtain; cards were placed in the ladies hands which stuck out from the curtain and they danced with the gentleman whose card they held; in still another, the ladies chose a hat from the pile and danced with the owner; and others

Exquisite Draperies

in a riot of colors and fabrics

Never have we shown such an unlimited assortment from which to choose, nor have the patterns and combinations of wonderful colors been more beautiful. Whatever may be your scheme of interior decoration, we are reasonably sure we can please you. At any rate, let us show you.

Draperies newest departure is featured in the delightful color combinations in cretons, which are used now for nearly every purpose, whether for sun-porch, living room, dining room, library or bed rooms. You will be more than pleased with the splendid patterns.

Then there are scores of chintzes, marquises, nets, scrims, repps, and velours. Sun-fast overdrapes are among our specialties, and every shade is included in the showing.

Ready-made curtains of net, marquise and scrim are here in hundreds of styles, and portieres in several colors are offered.

each of which was as clever as it was informal. During the program of dances, a delicious luncheon was served in buffet style. Mitchell's orchestra furnished good music throughout the evening. Among the guests were Miss Taylor of Indianapolis and Mrs. J. G. Nicholas of Denver, Col. About twenty-five couples were in attendance.

Abscess in Her Throat Affects Heart
and End Comes Today at Home Near Raleigh.

LEAVES HUSBAND AND 3 BOYS

Mrs. Rebecca Carson, 31 years old, wife of John T. Carson, died this morning at seven o'clock at her home, one mile south of Raleigh. Mrs. Carson had been ill only a short time suffering from an abscess of the throat and this affected her heart. Last evening she came near choking to death and this morning the end came suddenly.

Mrs. Carson was a member of the Raleigh Christian church and was well known in that part of the county. She is survived by her husband and three sons, Joe, Ernest and Jesse. She is also survived by several brothers and sisters. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

TAGGART WILL GET IN RACE

Will Seek Nomination For Senator
at Convention.

(By United Press.)

Washington, March 29.—Thomas Taggart, senator by appointment from Indiana, is a candidate for the nomination at the Democratic convention. Taggart has already announced the decision privately and will make a public statement in a few days.

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

You know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

Swift's Fertilizers Continue to Make Winners

If you used Swift's Fertilizer and obtained the best yield in the state you would, of course, give our fertilizer the credit that was due it. NOW, if the following year's Champion used Swift's and this performance repeated from year to year, you naturally would begin to think that Swift's Red Steer Brand is a pretty good fertilizer, would you not?

Look at the Record and Decide Yourself.

There can be no better proof of the value of a fertilizer than the records made by those who use it. There must be merit in a fertilizer that produces the results stated below:

Mr. Will Essig, Tipton, Indiana—131 bushels corn per acre. The largest yield of which there is any record in Indiana. Mr. Essig was recently awarded a gold medal at the Panama Exposition. Used SWIFT'S.

Mr. Norris McHenry, Elizabethtown, Ind.—112 bushels per acre. Winner of the Indiana 1914 Men's Five Acre Corn Contest. Used SWIFT'S. In 1915 he was induced to use other than Swift's Fertilizer and got no prize.

Mr. F. R. McHenry, Norris' father—used no fertilizer in 1914 and won no prize, but as his son won the State Championship in 1914 with the aid of Swift's Fertilizer, Mr. McHenry used Swift's in 1915, got 87.3 bushels of ripe corn per acre and won the sweepstakes for men in the Bartholomew County Five Acre Corn Contest.

The 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes for the highest yields of good quality corn in the 1915 Five Acre Corn Contest for men in Bartholomew County, Indiana, all went to users of Swift's Fertilizer. Also in the Boys' One Acre Corn Contest in the same county, the 1st, 2d, 3d and 4th prizes went to users of Swift's Fertilizer.

The Ohio 1914 Champion Corn Grower, Arnett Rose, Alger, Ohio—153.9 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Ohio 1915 Champion Corn Grower, Dewey Haines, Arcanum, Ohio—154 bushels—used SWIFT'S.

The Indiana 1914 Boy Champion Corn Grower, Roy Friedersdorf, Elizabethtown, Ind.—128.8 bu.—used SWIFT'S.

Gordon Reap, Elizabethtown, Indiana, who was third last year, is County Champion with 105.73 bushels. He also used SWIFT'S this year.

There certainly MUST be something in Swift's Fertilizers that PRODUCES RESULTS. Swift's blood, bone and tankage fertilizers make prize winners.

If YOU do not use Swift's Fertilizers, you are not sure that you are using the best fertilizer obtainable. You want the best—then buy SWIFT'S—the Red Steer Brand.

WET AND DRY LEGAL BATTLE STARTED

Court Will Determine Fate of Elwood—Appeal Taken From Commissioners' Court.

CLAIM RECOUNT WAS WRONG

(By United Press.)
Anderson, Ind., March 29.—The legal battle which will decide whether Elwood is to be a wet or dry city for the next 2 years opened in superior court here today before Judge W. S. Ellis. The court will decide an appeal from the county commissioners who decided that Elwood voted wet although the face of the returns gave the election to the dries by a slight margin.

The dries have filed a motion to dismiss the petition of the wets for a recount and attacked the validity of the petition today. Another dry motion asks the court to enter judgment on the face of the election returns.

A demurrer also has been filed to the petition for recount, claiming that the petition contains no allegation that any ballots have been preserved so that a recount could be made; that ballots illegally counted were protested; that ballots not counted by election boards were not properly marked for identification or that ballots not counted have been preserved or are on file.

TROOPS IN MEXICO FACE HARSHIPS; CLIMATE AND DUST

Dispatch Bearer, III, Tells First Story of March of Pershing's Men Through the Deserts.

WITH re-enforcements being rushed to the support of the United States troops now in Mexico and on the border and with the possibility that the entire national guard may be ordered to the frontier, the interests of the country are centered there today.

General Pershing, with his force, the first to enter Mexico, faced the kind of warfare that had been predicted. He scoured the mountains for traces of the outlaw band which attacked Columbus, N. M.

There are several varieties of hell on earth, and among them must be included an infantry hike along the dusty roads of northern Mexico, says one correspondent.

It is bad enough on the cavalry; it is tough on the horse artillery, and it is

the dust and on into the bones of the men who came staggering in at nightfall the first couple of days too weary to do anything but fall in heaps and pant.

Men Rush For Water Holes.

Now when they get in the first inquiry is for the water holes, and there is a wild rush to bathe. They are coming in with their blistered feet taped, but they are coming in with their heads up.

There will be much said, no doubt, about some of the marches made by the horse soldiers of Pershing's command later on, but there will never be any march that will equal any of the marches made by the foot soldiers of the punitive expedition after Villa.

During the first couple of days it was a common sight to see captains and lieutenants carrying guns and down the long line of march into Chihuahua.

Propped up in his bed at the isolation hospital at Fort Bliss, suffering from dysentery and at times barely able to speak from an affection of his vocal cords caused by the alkali dust, the sergeant said:

"When we went in the sun was burning hot, there was not a breath of air stirring, and the dust soon hung over the road like a curtain. It got into our eyes and mouths, and we could hardly breathe. It bothered the horses too. Many of the boys put wet handkerchiefs into their hats to keep the sun from boring into their skulls and rode along with closed eyes to keep out the dust and glare. Goggles didn't seem to help.

Men Half Blinded by Dust.

"Many of the men were half blinded in a couple of hours. The infantrymen would stumble along with their eyes shut as much as possible. Soon my eyes began to itch around the edges, then they felt as big as camp kettles, and finally everything got dark. I had inhaled a lot of the alkali dust and my throat began to get sore.

"After two hours' travel the faces of the boys looked like painted Indians. Everybody was perspiring freely. The dust would settle on their faces and then the sweat would run down, leaving a little furrow.

"As far back as you could see there was nothing but a line of dust. Men could not be distinguished.

"When we reached Las Palomas we

hard on the men of the wagon trains and the motor trucks and even the little cars, that go buzzing by in white clouds.

But way, way back in the ruck, back in the track of all the hoofs and wheels that move General Pershing's flying columns steadily across the state of Chihuahua, tramps the infantry, taking the dust of the whole long drive after Francisco Villa.

The first couple of days these "dough boys" could be found scattered along the roads in squads nursing their sore and blistered feet while waiting for the ambulances to get up. Now they come swinging down the Mexican highway into camp with scarcely a man missing from the ranks.

They were "soft" in the beginning. Their feet were tender. The sixty-five pound pack on their backs tugged at their hearts after the first few miles of the morning. Now they are gradually growing hardened and inured to the work.

Horses and mules died during the first couple of days and were left to the coyotes and the buzzards that trail every column. Cavalrymen rode in saddle sores, but the men plodded along and made their camps every night, limping a little, but still afoot.

Their very souls are steeped in dust during these marches. It is hot overhead. It is powdery soft under foot. The grind of the wagon wheels and the churn of the horses' hoofs have cut the dry roads to chalk.

A marching man inhales that dust with every breath. It settles in his clothing; it settles in his eyes, in his throat and in his ears.

By night a chill comes on from the mountains surrounding the valley through which the troops are marching. This chill got down in under packs belonging to their men who were unable to keep up under the load. Every officer shared his canteen of water with the privates.

Lieutenant Henry Meyers, riding at the head of M troop of the black Tenth cavalry, stopped his command beside a footweary band of infantrymen and made the troopers give their water over to the "dough boys."

All things considered, the horses and mules with the expedition have stood the journey well, the losses being comparatively insignificant, but the infantry has been wonderful.

Mexicans Amazed by Expedition.

The few Mexicans encountered stand at the roadside and view the long procession of Americans, that must seem to them interminable, in dumb amazement. They offer no comment, however, but rush around hunting up eggs and other articles to sell to the soldiers. The squadron of seven aeroplanes which passed over the line of march from Columbus, headed south and moving so high that they looked like a flock of buzzards, reduced the Mexicans to silent wonder.

The equipment of the army division that is swinging over their heads was another source of astonishment to the inhabitants.

They are accustomed to armies, but not to an army which moves like this one.

Marching has been about the extent of the activities of the punitive expedition to date. No hostility has been encountered from the natives.

A vivid story of the drive into Mexico in search of Villa was told by Sergeant W. H. Harrison, Troop M, Thirtieth cavalry. He was a dispatch rider for Colonel Galbraith, chief of staff, and traveled several times up and went right down through the streets. One regiment of infantry stopped and camped there for the night and all of the next day.

Found All Towns Deserted.

"At the next town—Bocas Grandes—it was practically the same. We found three persons sitting in the sun. The rest of the place was like a grave. We understood the inhabitants had fled to the hills.

"Just outside of Bocas Grandes we found the body of a cowboy who had been killed by Villa on his way to Columbus. He had been tortured and his hands were burned to a crisp.

"Finding all the towns deserted, we began to worry, and scouts were sent through the hills and outposts established on the tops of the surrounding hills.

"During the marches the boys stopped ten minutes every hour to rest. When the word was given they just dropped in their tracks right in the road. Most of them would lie on their backs, covering their faces with their hats. No stops for dinner were made. It was one steady hike from morning until we reached the camping place. The infantry was strung out so they would be a day's march apart.

"There are a lot of the boys pretty sick, but they are afraid they will be sent back if they mention it, so they hang on.

"On the whole, we were fed pretty well. We had hardtack and canned 'Wills'—that's corned beef. Sometimes we got a little bacon. Once I copped a 'war baby.' That is what soft bread is called."

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 E. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy. If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Hupmobile

What are you interested in when you go to buy an automobile? Is it 70 miles an hour over dead horse hill on high gear; 40 miles an hour from a standing start in ten seconds. A car with so many features that to read the advertisement of it seems more like reading a story in Arabian Nights than a present day creation. Or would you be more interested in how much comfort is built in. And that other item—Cost of maintenance, tire mileage, gasoline consumption, garage bills, those things that vitally effect the pocketbook, in which everyone is interested and about which so little is said.

Will they give me any tangible evidence that I will get the kind of service that I feel I have a right to expect? Proof of the pudding is chewing the bag. Give us a chance to show you what has been done by cars we represent, then draw your own conclusions.

WAR CHEST OF NAPOLEON SOLD

The Most Interesting and Priceless Collection of Relics Offered at Auction.

WAS BROUGHT HERE IN 1816

Includes Some Belongings of Marie Antionette—New York is Disappointed.

(By United Press.)
New York, March 29.—To the highest bidder today at an auction in West Forty-fifth street will go Napoleon's War Chest and his bed, Marie Antionette's vanity case and the boxful of other personal belongings she took with her to prison; also dozens of other personal effects of Kings and Queens, Dukes and Duchesses and other nobles. The sale is that of one of the most interesting and priceless Napoleon collections in the world. It is known as the Stephen Jumel collection and was brought to America by Jumel in 1816, when he took a ship to Europe to bring back the dethroned Emperor. The collection is being sold by Jumel's descendants. It has been thought for many years that the collection would be presented to the City of New York.

Mme. Jumel married Aaron Burr in 1833, a year after Stephen Jumel died. It was to her that Napoleon presented his battered leather war chest, designed and used by him in all his campaigns from Toulon to Waterloo. With its secret key, Napoleon gave Mme. Jumel the chest the day before he sailed for St. Helena.

Also to be auctioned is Napoleon's bed, which he used in 1800. It is mahogany. The medallions on the headboard represent Power and Wisdom in the profile bust of Minerva, helmeted with an owl atop. The medallions are crusted with palm tree and seven stars, all representing great deeds. There also is Napoleon's chestboard, chess table and chairs with which he played so much.

Napoleon's clock is unique in design and exquisitely dainty in workmanship. It represents Minerva approaching Appollo as he goes to war. The Roman faces at each corner, the chariot with its charging steeds, the lion facing the spear and the wreath of laurels all typify the qualities which dominated Napoleon. In the collection is the golden eagle, Napoleon's insignia, with wings spread and head and body poised to strike. After his downfall Mme. Jumel retained the emblem in her house in Paris.

Other Napoleonic relics include two candlesticks belonging to Louis XVIII, a tapestry used by Hortense, Queen of Holland, daughter of Josephine; chairs, sofa, centre table and consul table, forming part of Charles X's drawing room suite, still in its original upholstery, and a fan belonging to the Duchesse de Berry.

There are six chairs that belonged to Marie Antionette and the box used to carry some of her belongings to prison, a table on which Voltaire wrote, which was presented to Mme. Jumel by the Prince Talleyrand, and many paintings, including a portrait of Mme. Jumel in Rome and portrait of the Duchess de la Valliere by Mignard.

URGES ACTION ON 1-CENT POSTAGE

Rep. W. R. Wood Comments on Fact That Letter to England Costs Same as Local Delivery.

IS NOT A PROPER SCHEDULE

Recalls Experts Have Said Cost of Local Letter Delivery Does Not Exceed Fourth of Cent.

Washington, March 29.—Commenting on the proposition before Congress to reduce the rate of postage from 2 cents to 1 cent on local delivery letters Representative William R. Wood, of Indiana, today said that it was a matter of such importance as to justify early action. At the present time the 2 cent rate is applicable to all sealed letters. "This rate is not an equitable one," said Mr. Wood. "There is no sound reason why a patron of the postal service should be required to pay as much to send a letter to his next door neighbor as to a distant point. In fact a letter may now be sent to England, Germany, Alaska, Hawaii, or the Philippines for the same amount it costs for the delivery of a local letter."

"Although the individual charge is not great on any one letter yet the schedule of rates has never been fixed properly according to our American ideas of making charge for service performed. Postal experts inform us that the average cost to the Government for handling a local letter does not exceed one-fourth of a cent each; and further under the one cent rate the volume of mail will increase to such an extent as not to affect the revenues. In view of this condition there should, in my opinion, not be any further delay in enacting the required legislation providing a one cent rate on local delivery letters."

"Early in the session I introduced a bill providing for a readjustment of this condition but as yet the Postal Committee has not seen fit to report it. However, sometime ago that committee began holding hearings on my bill and others containing somewhat similar provisions. It is understood that several members of the committee feel disposed to favorably report a bill at an early date. Should this be done there seems little doubt but what the

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects. All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or disagreeable effects of any kind. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O.

Battle Cry Of Peace To Be Shown Here Is Call To Arms

"The Battle Cry of Peace," which will be seen in four performances at the Princess theater Thursday, matinee and night, is a call to arms against war. It is a Vitagraph feature that has attracted immense audiences in the larger cities of the United States. The topic is especially timely in the light of European war, the fever heat to which the preparedness question has risen and the Mexican question. Some excellent criticisms of the marvelous photoplay have been written, the following by Charles Henry Meltzer of the New York American being typical:

With all the lessons of the day's news in their minds—with many warnings to prepare them for a shock—a small, but far from unimportant of the New York world last night passed from the light and joy of Broadway into the Hell of War.

It happened in the heart of Long Acre; in the theatre which is called the Vitagraph.

The bills announced "The Battle Cry of Peace."

Outside the theatre men were selling toys. Big bladders blown into bombs made to look like colored bombs.

The usual crowds strolled up and down the highway. Signs blazed from countless restaurants and tango palaces. The newsboys yelled war headlines from the "Vaxtans." And all was as it had been for months past.

We had grown used to hearing stories of the war. They had lost much, if not most, of their earlier horror. And notwithstanding all that we had heard and read, there were still many in our midst who dreamt of peace, as if there were no war abroad.

It was to throw the fear of God into the hearts of those who would or could not understand the need of national preparedness that the management of the Vitagraph Theatre produced "The Battle Cry of Peace" last night.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take a glass of Salts to flush out your kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is absolutely for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

Gums shrinking? Danger ahead!

Go now to a mirror and examine your mouth? Do your gums look "rinsed out," shrunken? Do you see a jagged appearance in the gum-line?

If so, see your dentist. He will tell you that you have pyorrhea, and that to save your teeth you will have to fight this dread disease at once.

From pyorrhea come by far the greater part of all tooth troubles. Unless treated and checked, it will result not only in the shrinking and malformation of your gums and of the bony structure into which your teeth are set, but in the loss of the teeth themselves.

A specific for pyorrhea has been discovered recently by dental science, and is now offered for daily treatment in Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco combats the germ of the disease. Its regular use insures your teeth against the attack or further progress of pyorrhea.

But Senreco does more. It cleanses the teeth delightfully. It gives them a whiteness distinctive of Senreco alone. Its flavor is entirely pleasing, and it leaves in the mouth a wonderful sense of coolness and wholesomeness.

Start the Senreco treatment before pyorrhea grips you for good. Details in folder with every tube. A two-ounce tube for 25c is sufficient for 6 weeks' daily treatment. Get Senreco of your druggist today; or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Senreco Remedies Company 503 Union Central Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

House Insurance For Business Men

This is the day of Insurance — Insurance against Death, Accident, Sickness, Fire and Decay transfers hazard into security. A few gallons of Sherwin Williams Paint if used according to directions insures your house for years against the hazard of wind, rain, sleet and decay. SHERWIN WILLIAMS PAINT is the old time insurance policy of 90 per cent of the world's greatest railroads and corporations. Specify and demand it because of the low eventual cost is their criterion of value and their cheapest insurance.

Just two things to look for—the color and name of manufacturer, as you can't possibly see the absolute quality and service that is built in the can.

We do Contract Work. Let us figure with you.

NEW TURN TAKEN IN POLICE WAR

Ruling of Judge Against Indianapolis Officers Only Adds to Political Squabble.

GLENNS ARE MAIN FIGURES

Another Chapter Added When Alleged Pool Rooms Were Raided by Constables.

(By United Press.) Indianapolis, Ind., March 29.—The war of the republican officials of Marion county against the Indianapolis democratic city administration has taken a new turn in which Circuit Judge Ewbanks has declared that the police are guilty of persecuting and ruining the business of the Glenn brothers, owners of a pool room, a cafe and bar. The court issued a temporary injunction keeping the police off the premises of the Glenn brothers' pool room.

The affidavits against the police were prepared in the office of Joseph R. Roach, the attorney who assisted Prosecutor Rucker in his unsuccessful prosecution of Mayor Bell for alleged election frauds.

The Glens alleged that the police visited the pool room many times each day warning customers away and that the whole affair was a plot to ruin their business. The court agreed with this view.

The peculiar feature of the case is that Michael Glenn was a member of the force of city detectives in good standing until shortly before the Bell trial, when he asked and obtained a "vacation" of several months. During the Bell trial Mike Glenn testified for Bell and his testimony tended to discredit certain of Prosecutor Rucker's efforts. Now Rucker is helping Glenn against Bell's chief of police, S. V. Perrott. Indianapolis people realize that there is an untold chapter that accounts for this shift of forces, but they can't guess what that chapter is.

Another recent development was the raid on several bookkeepers who with their customers were following the races over leased wires. The raid was conducted by a justice of the peace on affidavits prepared by the prosecutor and tended to embarrass the police force by an exposure of gambling during the Bell administration.

It's a merry war that won't end until, either the democrats or republicans have both city and county offices.

IT WAS NOT PLEASURE TRIP

Martinsville High School Team Said It Was Business Proposition.

(By United Press.) Martinsville, Ind., March 28.—A fierce high school feud is raging because—

Jugs of water were carried from Martinsville by the basketball boys to Bloomington in the recent state basketball tournament.

Martinsville boys rented a house to live in during their stay instead of accepting the hospitality of the fraternity men of the University.

The local players decided they did not care for the Bloomington water which the Bloomington students themselves "slandered," they went prepared. Since their independence in renting quarters has been noted, they explain that they went to Bloomington for business rather than pleasure, as was shown by their work there.

SUFFRAGE HOPES GO GLIMMERING

House Judiciary Committee Postponed Action on Measure by a Vote of 10 to 9.

PROHIBITION ALSO HELD UP

Washington, March 29.—Consideration of every proposed constitutional amendment introduced in the house this session, including those for woman suffrage and prohibition and nineteen others of a minor character, was postponed indefinitely yesterday afternoon by the judiciary committee by a vote of 10 to 9.

Suffrage leaders, who vainly sought to have their proposal voted on separately, declared that they would continue their fight until the end of the session if necessary. They maintained that they controlled enough votes in the committee today to insure victory if the other questions had not been included in the motion. If possible, they will bring the issue to a vote again when the committee meets Thursday.

Little hope for a favorable report from the present committee is entertained, however, by the members who favor woman suffrage. Chairman Webb is opposed to the amendment and today he recognized Representative Carlin of Virginia to make the postponement motion while Representatives Nelson of Wisconsin and Moss of West Virginia clamored for the floor.

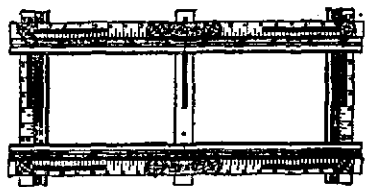

Prohibition leaders have made no announcement as to their future plans. None of them appeared at the committee today, and it is considered doubtful if their proposal will be resurrected for any other purpose than to block a separate suffrage vote.

But, then, three good meals a day are better than hardtack and bullets.

Kill Germs and Save Human Life

The menace of militarism, the horrors of war and the toll of death taken in all frightful accidents is as nothing compared to the danger of unseen deadly germs.

Even in war itself the toll of human life taken outright by the whizzing bullet, the bursting shrapnel, or the piercing steel is less than that caused by the unseen deadly germs that attack the wounded and well alike.

Human life will be lengthened and human happiness increased when we learn better to guard ourselves against the danger of the ever present germs of disease.

Powdered boric is one of Nature's most wonderful gifts to man, for it enables us, through antiseptics, to ward off the danger of infection.

Going to its wonderful antiseptic properties it cannot be too highly recommended for liberal use in the care of persons wherever and whenever exposed to the germs of disease.

Pure powdered boric may be used with absolute freedom and safety in all the natural cavities of the body. To realize how healing it is, yet how safe, we have but to recall that the physician almost always prescribes it as the principal ingredient of an eye water.

The manufacture of powdered boric has been brought to such a high degree of efficiency by one concern that if we always remember to specify "20 Mule Team Powdered Boric" we know that we have the real article in full strength.

On every package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will be found directions for its multitude uses and the expense is so little that no one should ever be without it.

A solution of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric in water makes an absolute and positive antiseptic for all personal use. It is excellent for a shampoo, for it kills the germs which makes the dandruff that spoils the lustre of the hair and causes it to fall out and cease to grow.

It should be used as a mouth wash on account of its antiseptic qualities whenever there is the slightest danger of having been exposed by being brought in contact with persons suffering with colds, sore throats, etc.

To overcome the unpleasant effect consequent upon excessive perspiration the use of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will give great satisfaction, making everything sweet and clean and healing any abrasion that may have occurred.

A hot foot bath with a liberal quantity of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric will make the feet feel ten years younger.

For the baby a liberal dusting with 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric not only assures freedom from chafing but helps to maintain an antiseptically clean condition on the little body.

To any cut or abrasion 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric should be freely applied.

20 Mule Team Powdered Boric is a foe to germ life.

It should be on the dressing table of every dainty woman and liberally used in every household where health is prized.

Authorized representative will soon call at your home and make arrangements for you to obtain, FREE, a full size package of 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric from any of the following druggists:

QUALITY COUNTS

more in painting than almost anything else about a building. Cheap paint and cheap labor mean a cracking and a scaling surface in a short time, that costs very much more to repaint than it ought. Cheap painting means inadequate protection against the weather. Can you afford to lessen the life of your building by seeking cheapness as the main thing? When we do the painting we use the best materials; employ competent labor and PAINT TO STAY PAINTED. It costs only a little more; but there's a reason.
